ADJOURNMENT CHANCES BRIGHTEN

ARMIES OF BOTH SIDES FLEE FLOOD

Rampaging Yellow River Spreads Over Plains, Carrying Disaster To Peasants and Fighters

SHANGHAI, June 15—(AP)—Both Chinese and Japanese armies were fleeing today before a Yellow river flood that could not be stopped either by guns or bombs.

Spilling through immense breaches in the river dikes between Chengchow and Kaifeng, the flood waters rolled for miles across the flat plains of Honan province, recognizing no man-made barriers and carrying disaster to millions of Chinese peasants as well as to armies.

Japanese war dispatches said fully 300,000 Chinese civilians had been made homeless and estimated that 150,000 civilians had drowned.

Although some reports were regarded as highly exaggerated, there no longer was doubt that property damage and loss of life would be widespread.

Floating Corpses Visible.

Hundreds of floating corpses were declared to be visible, and Japanese troops were turning from war to life-saving, participating feverishly in building rafts in an effort to save Chinese peasants stranded on high ground and house-tops.

Eerie scenes were pictured as refugees splashed through the water shrieking for aid.

Tragedy long familiar to China was being enacted as farmers, fleeing before the relentless current, were trapped and drowned in their homes and fields.

Rising Rapidly.

Delayed Japanese dispatches said the rapidly-rising flood was coursing in a southeasterly direction from Chungmow.

It was believed the towns of Yushih, Tungsu and Kihsien soon would be directly threatened.

These towns are on the route

Truck Workers Here Studying New Contracts

Present Agreement Runs Out Tonight Higher Rate Said Sought

Negotiations out of which it is hoped will come an agreement covering wages for emyloyes of truck operating companies here, were under way Wednesday at the Lincoln hotel. Any agreement reached and approved by the local union which is to meet Wednesday night, it was said, will displace the present contract which runs only until midnight.

The conferees, including representatives of both the union and the operators, declined to say whether the workers were asking for an increase in pay. However, is was said that as long as the negotiations are pending, there will be no strike.

Under Omaha Rates.

Under the provisions of the present contract freight handlers on trucks receive 40 cents an hour, and furniture handlers, 45 cents, C. E. Loper, spokesman for the group said. These wages are said to be 5 cents under the scale in Omaha.

Although Mr. Loper was not permitted to disclose what the workers are asking, it was learned in other sources that a wage scale on a parity with that in Omaha is desired. The Omaha contract ran out June 1, and negotiations on a new contract there are still in progress.

It was learned authoritatively that the operators were opposing a wage equal to that in Omaha. Their stand is based on claims that the volume of business in Lincoln is not sufficient to meet a pay level possible in larger cities, it was learned. That also is true of places in the same population classification as Fairbury, Grand Island, Beatrice and other smaller cities.

JERRY WILHELM TO VISIT GETTYSBURG

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—Jeremiah Wilhelm, 94, Omaha Civil war veteran, formerly of Lincoln, next month will visit the battlefield at Gettysburg where he had fought in the war with the Third Maryland regiment. Wilhelm, who lives here with a daughter, Mrs. George A. Roberts, took part in more than 20 battles during the war. The battle of Gettysburg was fought within 50 miles of his former home. Wilhelm will attend at Gettysburg a reunion of veterans.

WRECKAGE OF TWA AIRLINER SHOWN

The wreckage of the TWA airliner, missing since March 1, is shown above, as it was found buried in the snow and half hidden by trees on the Buena Vista peak, near Yosemite, Cal. The nine passengers were apparently killed instantly when the ship crashed into the mountain top. Victor Krause of Lincoln was one of the passengers and after cremation of his body on the coast, the ashes will be brought to Lincoln for burial services.

Wheat Is Turning 'White,' Anderson Reports After Trip

A. E. Anderson, state-federal agricultural statistician, expressed "considerable apprehension" today as to the outcome of Nebraska's 1938 winter wheat crop because of abnormal ripening indicated by the grain turning white "instead of the golden yellow color."

"This is not due to drouth, as there is ample moisture in the soil," he said upon returning from a short inspection trip in the vicinity of Lincoln. "Extreme brittleness of wheat stalks also was noted and some of the stalks have fallen over.

Straw Is Brittle.

"With ample moisture in the soil, it is difficult to explain why wheat is turning white. It is also difficult to explain the weakness of the straw which is very brittle. Part of the wheat has exhibited a weakness since the third week in May and much of it seems unable to recover, even after making allowances for late wheat."

Two varieties of rust—black stem and orange leaf—also are darkening wheat prospects, Mr. Anderson said. While a private crop reporter attributed most of the damage to freezing, the official observer said he believed it was due to "a severe infection of orange rust" more than anything else.

To Make Findings.

A three man bureau of air commerce board planned to proceed to the scene of the wreck Wednesday to make formal findings.

According to members of the search party which brought the bodies of the nine victims to Fresno, Pilot John D. Graves needed but 15 feet additional altitude to have cleared the three pine trees which the craft hit first.

From the broken wreckage it was deduced the ship hit these trees and then plunged into the mountainside, shattering into hundreds of small bits.

Graves' body was flung 200 feet. Bodies of seven others were found ten to 100 feet from the fuselage. Only Stewardess Martha Wilson's body was in the plane.

500 Present At Crop Field Day

Farmers Are Optimistic Over Outlook; Common Problems Discussed

Optimistic over crop prospects, a crowd of more than 500 Nebraska farmers was on hand today for the annual Crops and Soils Field Day at the college of agriculture.

Opinions varied as to the winter wheat harvesting prospects. Conditions for corn have been good though and stands are in good shape, they indicated.

The visitors spent the morning on the campus at the speaking program. Dr. T. A. Kiesselbach presided. During the afternoon, they visited experimental plats at the agronomy farm. Dr. F. D. Keim discussed weed and grass identification.

Hope that hybrid corn adapted to western Nebraska may be developed in the next few years was held forth by D. L. Gross, extension agronomist. "New early-maturing hybrids are being tested and it is hoped that several of them will be adapted to the western two-thirds of the state and that they will prove sufficiently superior to the common corn of those sections to make their growth profitable.

At present commercially produced hybrids are available only for the eastern third of Nebraska

4 FARMERS TIE FOR FIRST BY CORRECTLY IDENTIFYING WEEDS

Nebraska farmers know their weeds.

A four-way tie for first place resulted when farmers participated in the Crops Day contest which called for identification of 20 different species of weeds found in this state.

Theodore and Austin Wirth, brothers from Nebraska City; Ralph Jodtel of Clay Center, and Horatio Erskine of Route 10, Lincoln, all made perfect scores.

Austin Wirth got the first prize of two bushels of Nebraska 1063 wheat, however, because he drew the winning slip out of a hat. The other three got one bushel each of the seed of the newly developed smut-resistant variety.

60-Mile Wind Causes Much Minor Damage

Lincoln Gets .20 Of An Inch Of Rain; Walthill Has Cloudburst

Thunderstorms driven by high winds at Lincoln and Grand Island, a cloudburst at Walthill, and heavy rains in other communities in the southeastern sector featured the Nebraska weather scene Tuesday.

In Lincoln the storm struck just at the supper hour, stranding many workers and shoppers downtown as the rain, accompanied by a wind estimated at 62 miles an hour, slashed through the streets. The mercury fell from 88 at 4 to 64 at 6, and .14 of an inch of rain was recorded during the first half hour of the storm. Wednesday morning the total was .20, the weather bureau said.

Lightning struck a hay barn at Pioneers park, and there was considerable damage over the city from broken trees, tree limbs, windows, smashed electroliers, and grounded wires.

Wires Down.

The Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power Co. reported that it had wires down all over Lincoln, but nothing serious. A pole on its transmission line was down at Pleasant Dale and that community was without service for about a half hour. Current was off for about an hour and a half at

C.I.O. Demand On Congress Is Again Lost

Bankhead Refuses Lewis Plea For House Vote On Walsh-Healy Bill; Labor Leader Aroused

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—John L. Lewis personally presented to house democratic leaders today a second demand for action on the Walsh-Healey bill. Again he came away empty handed.

The bill would penalize corporations having contracts of at least $2,000 with the government which violated federal wage-hour standards or decisions of the national labor relations board.

Speaker Bankhead said he flatly refused the C. I. O. chieftain's renewed insistence that the house be given a chance to vote on the measure.

Bluntly, Lewis told reporters it was "cowardly" for congressmen "to hide behind" the rules committee which refused yesterday to send the measure to the house floor for a vote.

Lewis said this committee, which also blocked the wage-hour bill for months, "is notoriously friendly to corporations and antagonistic to labor."

Election Support Plot.

Labor, Lewis added emphatically, wanted to know just "how good friends" are the representatives who will ask labor support at the November elections.

Bankhead said he told Lewis both the rules committee and the judiciary committee had declined to clear the way for action on the bill.

"I also told Mr. Lewis," he said, "that I had been approached by some members of the house who have been friendly to labor, and

High Court Says Word "Crook" A Term of Reproach But Not Basis for Damages in Slander Action

TO CALL a person a "crook" does not constitute a basis for recovery of damages in a slander action unless specific allegation of special damages is made, the Supreme court ruled 6 to 1 today. Justice Rose dissented without comment.

"The word 'crook,' " Justice Bayard H. Paine said in the majority opinion, "is ordinarily used to denote a person who has been guilty of some dishonest, wrongful, or deceitful conduct, such as might or might not subject him to criminal prosecution, but it certainly does not of itself express, or with any degree of certainty suggest, the nature of the wrong done, for while it is a term of reproach, it is not a word that clearly charges any particular crime."

In affirming the Dawson county District court's dismissal of Earl L. Nelson's $7,000 slander suit against Ralph E. Rosenberg charging defamation of character because of certain expressions, the majority ruling said:

NOT DAMAGE BASIS.

"This court finds that the words used, to wit: 'crook' and 'not reliable,' were clearly words of general abuse; that they were derogatory and disparaging, but that they do not constitute a basis for recovery of damages in the absence of a specific allegation of special damages."

The fact that Nelson alleged general damages, such as injury to his character, credit, reputation, and business and social standing in the community as well as the suffering of "great anxiety and pain of body and mind," prevented his recovery, Justice Paine said.

The jurist drew a distinction between the written and spoken word, asserting:

"Many words which are actionable per se when published in a newspaper would not be actionable when spoken, without alleging and proving special damages."

WARNING ON MEDICAL CARE FOR INDIGENT

Public May Take Over Problem, Federal Official Says

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15—(AP)—The American Medical association exhibited little concern today over the declaration of a government representative that the public would take into its own hands the matter of supplying medical care for the indigent unless doctors themselves helped to solve the problem.

Dr. Warren F. Draper, an assistant surgeon general, delivered the message before the association's house of delegates.

The delegates quickly adopted a resolution challenging some details of Dr. Draper's story about the shortage of medical care for the great number of indigent and underprivileged.

To Dr. Draper's account of suffering disclosed by a government survey of 2,800,000 persons, the delegates replied that their plight might be due more to general want than to lack of medical service.

"Already on the March."

"One-third of our people," Dr. Draper told the delegates, are not going indefinitely to remain ill-fed, ill-housed, ill-cared for in sickness.

"Already they are on the march. The only question which remains is whether highly specialized groups, experienced in ways and means of meeting human needs, are going courageously and quickly to offer all they can give in constructive and progressive

Senate Approves A Flood Control Bill Compromise

Filibuster Is Averted And Major Obstacle To Quick Windup Of Session Removed

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—The senate approved a compromise flood control bill today, clearing away one major obstacle to adjournment tonight.

The action, which sent the bill to the white house, followed a lengthy round of debate that leaders had feared might become a full-fledged filibuster.

Led by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), some senators had protested provisions of the $375,000,000 bill which would permit the federal government to condemn land for dam sites without consent of the states.

Final action on the flood control measure brightened prospects for winidng up quickly congressional consideration of the administration's spending - lend-and deficiency appropriation bills.

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—An administration drive for adjournment of congress tonight bogged down this afternoon in senate oratory over extension of federal flood control powers.

A bloc led by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), and including Senators Burke (D-Neb.), Davis (R-Pa.), Lodge (R-Mass.), and King (D-Utah), held the floor to demand modification of a pending $375,000,000 flood control bill.

Final action on that measure and on the administration's spending-lending and defciency appropriation bills could not be reached until the finished talking.

Their chief objection was to a provision giving the federal government full title to land involved in construction of reservoirs and dams. The contention was that this would be a violation of the rights of affected states.

Some Still Hopeful.

Some informed senators said that despite the continued oratory there was a good chance of meeting the adjournment deadline.

Most major provisions of the relief bill were approved last night, but senate and house differences over distributing $212,000,000 of farm benefit payments were still in controversy.

Senator Russell (D-Ga) author of the benefit plan, discussed the controversy with President Roosevelt, and reported afterward he

GRAND ISLAND BOY DROWNED AT PIER

Playmates Make Vain Attempt To Rescue Louis Lakis; Lost Inflated Tube

GRAND ISLAND, June 15—(AP)—Louis Lakis 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lakis was drowned in the abandoned pier lake this morning. Firemen recovered the body after it had been submereged about forty minutes, but attempt at resuscitation were in vain.

Louis who could not swim, was paddling about with an inflated inner tube near the diving board, about twenty-five or thirty feet off shore, when the tube slipped away from him.

A companion, Walter McKinney, 12, and three other youths, Kent Kleinwalf and Don and Eugene Taylor, attempted to rescue him but could not find the body.

Newsreel Men Here to Tell Nation of White Spot Via Sound Pictures

A group of Paramount newsreel men, who have been in Lincoln for two days taking 1,500 feet of film to be run generally in movie houses throughout the United States picturizing the Nebraska "White Spot" completed their work Wednesday by taking shots of several members of the state legislature who happened to be in town.

The newsmen took pictures of the governor in his office, with some of his assistants, another at a local drug store in which the druggist informs a patron that "there is no sales tax on your purchase," a picture of a man making up his federal income tax and remarking that he does not have to make out a state income tax report, another in front of a theater with the ticket seller telling the customer that there is no state amusement tax, one of a woman purchasing groceries at a store and being informed that there is no consumers tax on her purchases, and finaly a farmer telling that he is not dissatistied with his property tax. The picture taking was with sound equipment.

The newmen also took pictures of Nebraska highways and public buildings, with the explanation that they are all paid for and that there is no bonded indebtedness against them.

WAGE-HOUR BILL SENT TO F. D. R.

Act Fixing Pay and Time Of 750,000 Workers Is Expected To Encounter Supreme Court Test

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Only President Roosevelt's signature was needed today to start an unprecedented federal program for nation-wide regulation of industrial working hours and minimum pay.

Congress approved compromise legislation late yesterday after senate debate that left little doubt the law soon will encounter a constitutional test in the courts.

The act is calculated to fix the minimum pay and maximum hours of 750,000 industrial workers, as well as the hours of another 1,500,000 unaffected by the wage provisions. It will go into effect 120 days after being signed by the president.

The president may appoint immediately an administrator who will have broad powers to interpret the act and to instruct committees of employers, workers and private citizens to be set up for each interstate industry.

Pay Starts At 25 Cents.

The industrial committees will be established as quickly as possible in an effort to raise the minimum wage of all industries to 40 cents an hour. For the first year the statutory minimum will be 25 cents, advancing to 30 cents for another year.

For the next five years the committees will fix the minima, which thereafter will increase to 40 cents in all industries where that scale will not create unemployment.

The act establishes a maximum work week of 44 hours for the first year, 42 hours for the second and 40 thereafter, with time and a half pay for overtime. Workers in seasonal industries, which do not operate more than 14 weeks a year, may be employed for 56 hours a week before being paid overtime.

Some Exemptions.

Some specific exemptions to wage and hour provisions are made in the act. These include all "bonafide" executive, administrative, professional or local retailing employes. This includes outside salesmen and those working for service establishments, such as laundries, whose chief business is within one state.

Agricultural workers, seamen, aviators, rail employes, streetcar workers, motor carrier employes, fishing industry employes, workers on small weekly or semi-weekly newspapers, and agricultural and horticultural processors in the area of production are exempt.

The act would ban the transportation, delivery or sale of goods in interstate commerce by an employer who had violated the wage-hour provisions. Common carriers would not be liable under this section.

Employers may not discharge nor discriminate against an employe who makes a complaint of violation of the law, or who testifies at a wage-hour hearing, or who serves on an industrial committee.

Employers liable for unpaid minimum wages or overtime must pay the worker an additional equal amount as liquidated damages. The law also provides a maximum fine of $10,000, six months in jail or both for violation, although no jail term can be imposed for the first offense.

Find Omaha Man Dead Following Explosion

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—Victor T. Klotz, 36, unmarried, a cashier for the Adams & Kelly company, was found dead in his house here late Tuesday. The body was discovered after a blast which brought police and fire department investigators to the scene.

Police said they found Klotz' body in the kitchen, his head and shoulders on top of a gas stove. Investigators said the jets were turned on and the explosion apparently resulted from an accumulation of gas. The explosion shattered the windows of the five room brick house, caused the roof to crumple and shook plaster from the walls.

Delay Fixing Wheat Acreage

Federal Board Awaits Definite Report On Present Crop

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Reports of rust damage and crop deterioration in the winter wheat belt caused federal officials today to hold in abeyance a drastic reduction in the 1939 wheat planting program.

Although the June 1 estimate of the federal crop reporting board forecast the largest wheat crop on record, AAA officials said the July estimate might lower the amount considerably. The June estimate was 1,020,000,000 bushels.

Under a bill passed by congress this week, the 1939 acreage allotment could not be less than 55,000,000 acres. About 79,000,000 were planted for this year's crop.

One high AAA official said that if the July report forecast a crop of 800,000,000 bushels or less — a development he considered unlikely—the national acreage allotment probably would be raised above 55,000,000 acres.

A provision of the new farm act required establishment of a loan program if the farm price on June 15 was 52 per cent or less of the theoretical "parity" price of $1.15 a bushel. Officials said the farm price was considerably above this mandatory loan level. Loans would be mandatory should the July report estimate a crop of 750,000,000 bushels or more.

If the 1939 planting program is fixed at 5,000,000 acres, the allotment compared with the acreage seeded for the 1938 crop would be approximately as follows. Nebraska, 3,050,146 and 5,041,000; Kansas 11,017,493 and 17,453,000.

1,800 See Sacred Pageant Presented On Outdoor Stage

BAYARD, Neb., June 15—(AP)—The "world's most beautiful story" was retold Tuesday night to 1,810 worshippers huddled in blankets at the natural amphitheater near Chimney Rock, scene of the annual "Gift of God" pageant, passion play of the western Nebraska prairies.

Dr. Louis H. Kaub of Beatrice, author of the pageant, here for the ninth annual presentation, said the performance was one of the most successful in history for an opening night. Additional performances will be given tonight, Thursday and Friday night. Officials on the grounds counted automobiles from 12 states and 36 Nebraska counties.

An impressive stage effect was the electrically lighted star of Bethlehem which descended from a bluff serving as a backdrop to a rock manger. A chorus of angels was seemingly transported from the stage to the top of the bluff.

Postmasters To Hold Lifetime Jobs Under Bill

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Congress had decided postmasters in first, second and third class offices shall become "career men" who may hold their jobs for life.

Legislation extending the civil service to these offices, previously filled largely by political appointees of the party in power, was enacted yesterday and sent to the White House.

The bill would permit incumbent postmasters—nearly all of whom are democrats—to retain their posts by taking a non-competitive civil service examination when their present four-year terms end.

Otherwise, if a vacancy occurs, the postmasters will be appointed by the president from among the three persons making the highest grade on a competitive civil service examination. The senate must confirm these appointments, which will be for life.

The only bar to this extension of democratic control of the postmasterships, republican congressmen declared, would be repeal of the law when and if the republicans control the government.

Missionary Society Elects Mrs. Marvel

Three Lincoln Women Chosen At Christian Conference: Hit Liquor, Gambling

KEARNEY, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Mrs. P. O. Marvel of Giltner is the new president of the Nebraska Christian Women's Missionary society.

She was elected at state convention here yesterday together with these other officers: Mrs. O. F. Lang of Falls City and Mrs. Henry Fishbach of Beatrice, vice presidents; Mrs. Fenner King of Lincoln, treasurer; Mrs. Ward Betzer of Lincoln, recorder and Miss Grace E. Young of Lincoln, librarian.

At the sessions of the state's Christian churches delegates passed resolutions criticizing the Roosevelt preparedness policy and Nebraska's legalized gambling (parimutuel betting) and liquor. One resolution blamed the governor and the legislature for the parimutuel and requested those in authority to eliminate all gambling and parimutuel devices."

Beer Regulatory Group Will Appear At License Hearing

Sandall Will Ask Cancellation Of Staskiewicz Permit If Charges Substantiated

The first test of the value of the newly organized Nebraska Brewers & Beer Distributors committee has appeared in the case of Vernon Staskiewicz, Omaha beer parlor operator who is to appear before the state liquor commission Wednesday afternoon on charges of selling hard liquor in his beer tavern.

Charles E. Sandall of York, state director for the committee, after calling on the commission Tuesday, announced he will appear at the hearing, and will insist upon cancellation of Staskiewicz's license if the charges are substantiated. The committee had already cut off Statskiewicz's supply of beer.

The Omahan's case was augmented by the fact that two state liquor agents, when inspecting his place, were attacked by a group of hoodlums, some of whom are now under arrest.

Harold Marsh of Omaha, chairman of the brewers' "good conduct" committee, in requesting Sandall to appear before the state liquor commission, said that Staskiewicz's supply was cut off by unanimous vote of the committee "and indicative of our determined desire to co-operate with you and law enforcement officials, in an effort to conduct our business in the public interest."

Heiress Marries Salesman Despite Dad's Objection

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Commodore Edgar F. Luckenbach, multi-millionaire shipping magnate, still was unreconciled today to the marriage of his daughter, Andrea, 18, to a 22-year-old butter and egg salesman.

But serenely oblivious to parental wrath, "Bubbles" Luckenbach and her bridegroom of a day, William Dobbs, sailed the waters of Long Island sound in a yacht borrowed from the bride's half-brother for a three-day honeymoon.

Luckenbach objected to the marriage, he told friends, because he thought his daughter, who will inherit $1,000,000 in three years, was "too young."

The couple was married late yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Richard Hegarty, Methodist Episcopal minister of Manhasset, N. Y., in the farmhouse of Adolf Garni, first vice president of the W. R. Grace & Co., at Kensington, Long Island. The Grace line and Luckenbach's ships compete in the intercoastal trade.

The bride was given in marriage by Lewis Luckenbach, her half-brother. Her father did not attend.

LOAD LIMIT LAW INJUNCTION DENIED

LEXINGTON,, Neb., June 15—(AP)—District Judge I. J. Nisley denied a temporary injunction in the action by which the Zurcher truck lines, Inc., sought to invalidate a 1933 state law which limits truck loads to a 32,000 pound maximum.

The trucking firm, suing for itself and all others similarly situated sought to enjoin state officials from enforcing the act. Arguments on the case were submitted during the day.

Rev. Geissinger Is Speaker At Newman Church Observance

The second anniversary celebration of the dedication of the Newman M. E. church continued Tuesday evening at the church, Twenty-third and S streets. Rev. E. Lamont Geissinger, pastor of Grace M. E. church, was the principal speaker.

Rev. Geissinger urged his hearers to become aware of life as seen through Christ's revelation of the purposes of God.

H. A. Sandberg spoke briefly on "The Importance of Church Loyalty." This trait, he stressed, helps not only the church as a whole, but also the individual, since his practice of loyalty to an institution of such high ideals as the church adds to the strength of his character.

BURNING FEET

Ease the Pain, Agony, Soreness and Aching To-night

"Oil your feet," ordered Napoleon to his soldiers before a battle or a long march—he was a clever man.

Sore, aching, burning feet probably cause more misery—more distress—more bad temper and cursing than most any other human ailment.

Many a time—overnight—you can take out the sting—the soreness—the burning and aching from your poor distressed feet by giving them a good rubbing with penetrating medicated OMEGA OIL.

So don't worry—"Oil your feet" with Omega Oil tonight, walk more briskly and joyfully to work tomorrow—35 cents is all—at your druggist's.—Adv.

Loving Cup To Omaha Bethel

Job's Daughters Group Holds World Record For Membership

Bethel No. 13, of Omaha, the largest Bethel in the world, was presented with the membership loving cup of the Grand Guardian Council of the Order of Job's Daughters of Nebraska at a dinner of the group preceding a dance in the Lincoln hotel Tuesday night. Lois Burnett, Omaha, honored queen, received the award, made annually to the Bethel ranking first in membership gains.

Velva Schlorff, Omaha, donor of the cup, made the presentation. She is a past grand guardian of the Nebraska group.

Elizabeth L. Warden, of Owossa, Mich., supreme guardian, spoke briefly on the American flag at the dinner. She expressed the hope that youth would appreciate the American flag and its privileges. She also invited the Nebraska groups to attend the supreme session, to be held in Washington, D. C., in August.

Dorothy Anderson, of Bethel No. 5, Lincoln, was toastmistress for the occasion. About 200 attended.

French Police Guard Lindy; Gets Threats

ST. BRIEUC, France, June 15—(AP)—Because of threatening letters to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from the United States, French police today guarded a 20-mile stretch of the twisting Brittany coast of northern France to safeguard the famous flier.

Police said Lindbergh had received letters from persons believing Bruno Hauptmann innocent of the killing of Lindbergh's first son March 1, 1932, and holding the flier partly responsible for Hauptmann's execution April 3, 1936.

Lindbergh, his wife and two small sons came to France last week to live on Illiec island, which they recently purchased. They previously had lived in England for two and a half years.

They now are on St. Gilda's island as guests of Dr. Alexis Carrel, scientist with whom Lindbergh collaborated in developing the "mechanical heart," awaiting completion of their new home on nearby Illiec island.

PRISONER ASKS HIS RELEASE THROUGH HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Fred V. Thompson, an inmate in the penitentiary, has filed a petition in District court asking freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. The petition, a voluminous affair drawn up by Thompson, contends that he is being illegally held at the institution, where he was sentenced from Omaha for 20 years on March 30, 1935 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery. He claims that no person should be held to answer to an offense (except where there is a fine or imprisonment in other than the penitentiary) unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury.

Wild Life Conserved

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Conservation of wild life became a thing of vital importance to members of the Columbus chapter of the Izaak Walton league. Application of the principle stopped construction on part of the chapter's new log cabin—because a robin's nest full of baby robins was found under one of the eaves.

OCTAGON HOUSE

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far: Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quanomet. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Asey knows Pam Frye is innocent, as well as Tim Carr, boarder at the Frye's Octagon House. Marina was married to Tim, unknown to Jack Lorne and also had played around with Roddy Strutt, who is now being "menaced." Then the barn burns down, Tim and Asey are knocked out in the woods, and Pam's father is found unconscious in the Lorne's cottage. The problem uppermost in Asey's mind is a $50,000 lump of ambergris Pam found the day of the murder. Pam hid it in the coal bin, and her father moved it to the barn.

Chapter 30.
ASEY'S OPINION.

"Did Aaron hear anyone in the house when he came to?" Dr. Cummings asked.

"He didn't hear anythin' or anyone," Asey said, "until Pam called him. He didn't have a watch, an' the time element's all confused. He must have been out for a good while, though."

"How'd he get the ambergris into the barn?"

"Believe it or not," Pam said, "he just casually wheeled it there yesterday morning."

"He didn't!" Cummings said.

"He did," Asey assured him. "Same order of things as my paintin' an' puttyin' yesterday. With troopers to the right of him an' troopers to the left of him, he wheeled it out to the barn in an offhand manner—it was still covered up with the tarpaulin—an' dumped it into an old zinc lined feed bin. The cops didn't say a word. Aaron was bein' open an' aboveboard, an' they was sort of losin' interest in doggin' his footsteps by then anyways, an' Hanson was away at the time. That's how that happened."

"And Asey doesn't think that the ambergris was in he barn when it burned," Pam said. "Of course, that particular bin was near the door, and I suppose it would be the first thing anyone would look into — but see here, Asey. If the person who fired the barn actually had looked around beforehand, he'd have found the ambergris right off the bat! And then there wouldn't have been any need of burning the barn at all, unless—"

"No," Asey said. "He looked around, an' couldn't find it so he burned the barn in order to get us to point it out."

Listen, Asey," Pam said. "Take it slowly. Get the whole picture. I put the stuff in the coal bin. Father finds it, and has a fanciful notion that it'll be safer in the barn. So he takes it there. Someone wants to know where the ambergris is. You claim that they looked around the barn—well, if they did any hunting at all, they certainly found it in the bin. And if they didn't hunt for it, then it just got burned up."

"They looked for it," Asey repeated, "an' they didn't find it, so they set the barn on fire to see if—"

"If they didn't find the ambergris in the bin," Pam interrupted, "where in heaven's name was it, Asey? You just aren't makin' sense!"

"Sure I am," Asey said. "Your father put it in the bin. But someone moved it from the bin after your father put it there, an' before he person who fired the barn began his huntin'. That's clear, ain't it?"

"Asey Mayo, do you mean that there's more than one person after this ambergris?"

"I'm sort of beginnin' to think, Asey admitted in a characteristic understatement, "that maybe perhaps there possibly might be."

Barn Burner Or Biffer?

"Two!" Cummings said. "Two? What do you mean, two?"

"Two people, or two sets," Asey said. "Maybe more. Probably more. I wouldn't know. That's what I been wrestlin' with in my mind. I think the feller that fired the barn ain't the one that biffed Tim Carr and Aaron an' me. The barn burner uses his head. The biffer seems to be a violent sort of lad. The barn burner—"

"You certainly can't call him any quiet shrinking violet!" Pam interrupted. "And after all, arson isn't one of the gentler crimes!"

"I know. But I think the person that burned the barn hunted through it first, and then waited around to see if his burnin' theory worked out. N'en I think he called it a day, an' left. N'en I think that someone else carried on the violent part, biffin' your father before the fire, an' Tim an' me after it. An'—"

'And what about those two troopers, O'Malley and what's-his-name?" Cummings asked.

Asey shrugged. "No one knows. Hanson's tryin' to solve that one right now. P'raps they landed up with the violent gent, p'raps they didn't. They're not within a mile of this place, anyway. It's been looked over again this morning."

"Listen," Pam said. "I've got another idea. Suppose someone found the ambergris in the bin, removed it, and then fired the barn to make us think the the ambergris was burned up in it. What about that side, Asey?"

"I thought of it, but I don't like it," Asey told her. "If he'd have swiped it, he'd have beaten it and not paused for the fire to call attention to things. Firin' he barn then might of lost him too much time, and of course, how an' when could anyone of got the ambergris away, with that mob in the woods, later."

"Perhaps that's why Shorty and O'Malley are missing. Perhaps they saw the man take it away, and perhaps they went after it."

"Wait an' let me get straighened out," Cummings said. "Aaron put it in the barn. Someone else—call him B, removes it. Someone else—call him C—hunts for it, an' can't find it, an' so he burns the barn. And now you think there's still another person, D, who's responsible for the violent biffings that went on. Well, that leaves you with three peple, or one person three times, or—oh, it's beyond me! And suppose the ambergris was taken from the barn—where was it taken to?"

"Not very far," Asey said.

"And who did it?" Pam demanded. "Who is this B, and who's C, and who's D? Who are they?"

"Who," Asey returned, "did your sister Marina tell about tne embergris before she was killed?"

"I don't think Marina told a soul," Pam insisted. "I truly don't. She was out to get that for herself. And supposing that she did tell someone. She and the person would have teamed up and whisked it off long before I got over there to the garage at ten-thirty. And—"

"Wait," Cummings said. "Wait another second. Suppose for the sake of the argument that Marina told someone about the ambergris, and suppose the person decided to get it for himself. And with the ambergris as a motive, suppose they killed Marina, and—"

"Good An' Thwarted."

"You can stop supposing right there," Pam said. "If someone killed her for the ambergris, why in the world didn't they take it after they killed her, Friday night? Why did they leave it for me?"

"How do you know they did leave it for you?" Asey asked. "You left it in the garage because you didn't have any way of removin' it. It's perfectly possible that the person who killed Marina was in the same position. You've hunted ambergris all your life, but you never thought about transportation problems. Marina could have been killed for the ambergris, and the person could of been stumped on the transportation angle just the same way. Now, let's suppose—"

"No," Cummings said, "don't let's suppose. Let's stop supposing. I can suppose up to a certain opint beautifully, but from there on into higher mathematics, my mind doesn't function. And my mind's had enough. Except just this — suppose that the person who killed Marina didn't know anything about the ambergris at all, and suppose they killed her because she put Lorne up to doing those caricatures in the mural. That's what everyone in the town of Quanomet firmly believes, anyway. Asey, do you think she was killed for the ambergris, or because of the caricatures?"

Asey shrugged.

"You must have some opinion," Cummings said.

"Seems to me," Asey remarked, "that $50,000 worth of ambergris is a sounder motive than just bein' mad at bein' painted into a picture. You could fix the picture up some dark night with a can of paint or a bit of paint remover. In fact, you could chip off a little of the offendin' face each time you went for your mail. But with a person like Marina, I don't think you could put your finger on one special thing an' call that the motive. She seems to have been the sort who inspired people with motives for murder."

Pam sighed. "That's true enough," she said. "Oh, dear, this gets so complicated—Asey, if this person found the ambergris in the bin, what did they do with it?"

"I don't think they got it away very far," Asey said, "an' I don't think they'll get far with it tryin' to sell it. Because I did some phonin' last night. I'd ought to have, before. There's only a limited number of people who'd buy that stuff. If anyone has managed to get it away, and if they manage to get it to Boston or New York, they're like to find themselves good an' thwarted."

"Asey," Pam said, "this is insane! Consider if they didn't get it away, it's still here, or hereabouts! But you've gone over the whole vicinity, hunting for those troopers—hundreds of people have—and if the ambergris had been around, you or someone would have found it. But you didn't. And if you ask me, the ambergris was burned up last night, and if it got re-stolen before the fire, then it's hundreds of miles away. Must be. As far as I'm concerned, the ambergris is gone!"

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

NEW YORK—The attitude of American doctors toward one of the most controversial public issues in medicine today—health insurance—has been measured by the American Institute of Public Opinion in a special preliminary survey of physicians.

Survey Results.

The institute survey, which covered representative doctors in all states, shows that:

1. More than seven out of every ten doctors polled favor the principle of health insurance, a system by which an individual insures himself medical and hospital care by making regular payments to a health fund.

WHAT DOCTORS THINK

Following are the results of a preliminary survey among doctors on several important medical issues.

1. Do you approve of the principle of voluntary health insurance, where an individual insures himself medical and hospital care by making regular payments to a health fund?
YES..... 73% NO..... 27%

2. Do you think the movement for voluntary health insurance will grow in this country during the next ten years?
YES..... 82% NO..... 18%

3. If voluntary health insurance is widely adopted, do you think it will increase or decrease the income of the medical profession?
INCREASE..51% DECREASE..49%

4. Do you think the standards of medical practice are raised when physicians practice in groups, as in clinics?
YES.....53% NO.....47%

5. Do you believe many persons in your community go without adequate medical care because they are unable to pay doctor's fees?
YES.....37% NO.....63%

2. A large proportion of doctors—more than eight in every ten—think that the movement toward health insurance will grow in the next few years. Even many doctors who oppose the movement believe it will gather strength.

3. There seems to be little agreement among physicians as to whether health insurance, if widely adopted, would decrease or increase the income of the medical profession. Twenty-seven out of every 100 in the survey said they had no opinion on this question. Among the remainder who did have an opinion, approximately half said they thought doctors' incomes would be increased, while the other half said they would be decreased.

The institute's special study of doctors' opinions on health insurance supplements a general survey of the public's attitude, which was reported last week. This survey found that a considerable 'market' for health insurance exists, with 53 per cent of the population willing to enroll under some group insurance plan.

Party names, words and isms change, but one group always cries, "Give us security!" and the other cries: "Save our special privileges."

Grads Advised to Take Any Kind of Job Until Times Get Better

CHICAGO, June 15 — (AP) — From a psychologist who has specialized in a study of job placement came this advice today to the June college graduate looking for a job:

"Take any kind of a job and hold on to it, at least until times get better, rather than sit around and feel sorry for yourself.

"Don't be high-hat because you have been graduated from college. Be realistic. Recognize that in the line you have trained for there may not be any openings. If you can't connect don't feel bad about taking something on a lower level."

The psychologist, Dr. Robert N. McMurry, added that with more than 11,000,000 men out of employment college graduates could not afford to be "too choosy."

Dr. McMurry said the danger in not taking an available job lay in the effect on the graduate's morale.

"Take for instance a man who has trained for an engineer's position and there is no opening for him," said Dr. McMurry. "He won't take a salesman's job because he feels that it is beneath him. After several months of fruitless looking for an engineer's job his morale goes to pieces, whereas if he recognizes the situation and accepts another kind of position, he will be earning something, gaining experience and keeping his morale until this rather unusual employment condition is over."

Although "times are hard," he asserted, there were still jobs to be had—"marginal positions which don't pay much money and in which there is not much future."

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

MAID QUESTION

The maid question seems to be progressing—For today we have another letter, rather a long one, from someone who has had some unpleasant experiences while doing house work. Again I shall forego the pleasure of airing my own views on a variety of subjects, and give the space to the letter.

Dear Minerva: I read the letter of a Maid Sympathizer, and I most certainly agree with her. Never—never again if I could possibly get out of it, would I be a "hired girl."

Let me tell you of a place where I worked. I received two dollars a week. In return for that I took care of an eight room house, washed, ironed, cooked all of the meals, washed and waxed two cars every week, watered the garden, pulled weeds, and watered the lawn.

The woman had three children, two in high school and one in grade school. Three of the snippiest, most impolite children I have ever known. They had breakfast served to them in bed—they were so tired, poor dears.

Let me tell you of an incident that happened while working for them.

I was ironing one day when the girl, seventeen, came into the kitchen to examine some of her things I was ironing. She picked up a piece of silk I was ironing and said:

PARTICULAR

"See here, Helen, this will never do. I'll have you know I am a very particular young lady and nothing like this will do for me."

I know positively that she had never done an ironing in her life.

I wasn't allowed to eat with them, to use their bath tub for a bath, or to sit in any room in the house but my own, which was in the basement.

They were well-to-do people, and their children each received more money per week than I received in three. I had been there nearly a year when I asked for a slight raise in salary.

"Oh, my dear, why should I give my maid any more than two dollars a week, when hundreds of girls are out of work? I can always get a girl for that, why pay more?"

I am not the only maid who complains about the unfairness of it all. A friend of mine, well educated, works out and receives only fifty cents a week, (a beggar's dolance.)

I am glad to say, though, that one out of the ten is a real lady, and I worked for her. She was polite, considerate, and she paid a decent wage to me. Let me tell you I did more for her willingly than I did for a lot of them.

We all expect to work for our living, and earn our wages, but why be unfair? Let your girls off when you don't need them. Speak in a civil tone, and please, for Heaven's sake, make your children treat her with a little decency and consideration. Pay her what you think the work is worth and what you can afford to pay. Treat her as your equal, as indeed she is.

I am working down town now, and I wouldn't trade my job for any other. I am my own boss after I leave there at five o'cloçk, and my friends are welcome in my home.

Thanks, Minerva for printing this, and may your column survive for ages. ONCE A MAID.

Old Doll Is the First Concern Of Helen Seifert On Return From East

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—First concern of Helen Seifert, 11 year old Bridgeport, Neb., blind and deaf girl, when she returned from the east today was an old doll she had left behind a year ago at the Nebraska school for the blind at Nebraska City.

Helen, who has been attending an eastern school for the last year, cried, "I want to get my baby" when she and her teacher, Miss Margaret Hoshor, reached the school.

She made her way, sure of each door and turn, to the room where she and Miss Hoshor had lived a year ago at the school. The door was locked and Helen cried "I want the key."

Once inside she went to a closet unlocked that door and picked up an old doll in a crib. She had left it there last year.

Miss Hoshor, who will remain at Nebraska City for several days with Helen, said the child made great progress at the eastern school. The child's education began four years ago with a fund contributed by newspaper readers.

DEMONSTRATION ON FIRST AID GIVEN AT POLICE INSTITUTE

Stressing the importance of emergency treatment in accident cases, members of the first aid squad of the Omaha fire department presented a demonstration in first aid before law enforcement officials attending a session of the police institute at the University of Nebraska Tuesday night.

Captains Benjamin Meister and John Marchetti, who were in charge of the demonstration, pointed out that proper handling of accident victims consists 60 per cent of technical knowledge and 40 per cent of "common sense." They emphasized the necessity of distinguishing between "hurry cases" and those in which first aid treatment is of importance.

A portable "iron lung," which is a part of the Omaha department's first aid equipment, was demonstrated, and use of the inhalator in reviving persons was shown. Treatment for bleeding victims, burns, the use of splints, and artificial respiration were also demonstrated.

TEMPERANCE TOPIC OF LIQUOR DEALERS FIRST CONVENTION

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—President Dick Kitchen of the Nebraska Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealers association, said "temperance" will be the keynote of the organization's first annual convention June 28 at Grand Island. The association comprises all wholesalers of hard liquor in the state and more than 600 of the 1,100 retail dealers, Kitchen said.

Economist Is Gloomy Over Trade Outlook

Ayres Says Recovery Will Start When Income Begins Climb

CLEVELAND, June 15—(AP)—Col. Leonard P. Ayres expressed gloom today about business prospects.

"The decline in the volume of industrial production since last August is already the most severe that we have ever experienced within the space of time that this one has been under way," the economist said.

"It will probably prove to be the longest one without a reversal that we have ever had.

"Slow persistent decline has continued to be the chief characteristic of general business activity during the second quarter of this year, as it was in the first quarter," he wrote in the Cleveland Trust Co.'s monthly business review.

Recovery Prospects.

Ayres said business recovery will start when national income begins to increase, which will happen when industrial payrolls begin to expand. "The payroll figures will grow larger when there is a distinct increase in the production of durable goods," he said, "and probably the change will be first noted in an important increase in the output of iron and steel."

Ayres summarized industrial production as about 34 per cent lower in the first half of 1938, compared with last year; railroad freight 28 per cent down; the number of automobiles 57 per cent off; steel production 63 per cent lower; new building construction 20 per cent down, and industrial profits off abut 68 per cent.

CIRCUS TRAIN AIR HOSES ARE SPLIT

TOLEDO, O., June 15—(AP)—Splitting 24 air brake hoses caused a 5-hour delay in the departure of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey circus train today for Erie, Pa. The vandalism climaxed a day of labor trouble yesterday during which 67 teamsters and drivers walked out over the discharge of a foreman.

Tractors were used to load the circus after last night's performance. John Ringling North, president, said the show would open in Erie despite the delay. Several days ago Ringling asked circus employes to take a wage cut because of low revenues this year.

BROUN IN FAVOR OF FEDERAL NEWSPAPERS

TORONTO, June 15— (AP) — Establishment of newspapers by the government in large centers where control "of existing papers is in the hands of single interests" is favored by Heywood Broun, president of the American Newspaper guild.

Speaking at a meeting in connection with the guild's fifth annual convention last night, Broun said he favored a government press not for competitive reasons but "to bring out all shades of thought."

"Integrity of the news is more important than any "freedom of the press' catchword," he said,

"We live by what we read. If we can't get fair and accurate reports, we are blinded. We need a large number of papers to have real freedom of the press."

Broun also recommended an international organization of newswriters to work for world peace.

Blaming war on pre-war propaganda, he urged "effective collaboration of working groups all around the world "to prevent war."

Predicts Huge Rail Salvaging

Basic Changes In Carrier Status Needed Says I. C. C. Member

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—B. H. Meyer of the interstate commerce commission predicted today the United States probably faces the greatest railroad salvaging operations in history unless there are basic changes in the carriers' status.

The commissioner expressed his view in dissenting from an ICC decision denying the Associated Railways Co. permission to acquire and dismember the bankrupt Minneaplis & St. Louis railroad.

Averse action on the application, Meyer contended, "avoids certain present losses, but it makes certain greater losses in the future."

Associated railways sought to acquire the long-bankrupt M. & St. L. split up segments among seven railroads, and abandon about 400 miles of line not wanted by any of the seven carriers in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

To Reconsider Fare Case.

The commission, in another important action yesterday, agreed to reconsider its recent denial of the eastern railroad's petition for authority to increase passenger coach fares to 2.5 cents a mile.

The present rate is 2 cents. The rehearing was set for June 27. The original request was turned down by a 6 to 5 vote.

A lukewarm attitude of some legislators and opposition of railroad labor executives, meanwhile, blocked congressional aid to railroads threatened with bankruptcy.

A senate committee approved a bill to liberalize RFC loans to carriers, but no move was made to get a senate vote. House leaders also were cool to the measure, although Mr. Roosevelt said it would be helpful if congress could pass any rail legislation this session.

Blair Says Wheat Crop As Whole In Excellent Shape

Prof. T. A. Blair, weather observer at the University of Nebraska, reported Wednesday that Nebraska winter wheat is filling and is mostly in excellent condition, as he made his weekly crop bulletin.

"Red and orange leaf rust have developed extensively in the southern and eastern portion of the state, and damage to later wheat is considerable" he declared, stating that other small grains are progressing well and that corn is growing rapidly and is in excellent condition, except that much of it is rather late.

His report stated, that some replanting is being done and in most fields cultivation is progressing rapidly. "A portion of the first crop of alfalfa is in stack showing fair to good yields," he said. Pastures are good and potatoes are getting along well. He said that there has been no extensive damage by cut worms or grasshoppers.

BURLINGTON MUST CONTINUE TO KEEP AGENT AT STAMFORD

The state railway commission has denied the application of the Burlington railroad to substitute a custodian at Stamford for the present railroad agent there. The application was opposed at a hearing Monday at which a number of Stamford business men contended that the revenue collected at that station is sufficient to warrant retention of a regular agent.

A representative of the national railway telegraphers'union attended the hearing and threatened to appeal the case to the national railway adjustment board, if the substitution was made, but W. M. Maupin, commissioner who denied the application said that the threat of the telegraphers did not influence his decision as the commission can consider only the adequacy of the service there.

Birth Control As Prevention of Feeble-Minded Children Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15—(INS)—Selective birth control to prevent breeding of too many feeble-minded children and at the same time regulate the size of families of the "chronic poor" was urged before one of the sections of the American Medical association today in a paper prepared by Dr. Lloyd H. Ziegler of Wauwatosa, Wis., and Dr. Charles P. Seldon of Boston.

The doctors surveyed 50 married couples who came to free clinics to have their babies, and discovered that 22 per cent of them were feeble-minded. In a comparison between indigents and self-supporting parents they learned that the poor folk had a baby on the average once a year and the self-supporting ones had children at two-year intervals. The poor lost an average of 94.6 babies per 1000 births, from child ailments and the stronger economic class had a mortality rate among children of only 40.9 per 1000 births.

The doctors said that sterilization, though slow to be effective throughout the population, was a helpful method, and recommended also vocational training of the feeble-minded and registration of all persons whose intelligence quotients were 70 or less. Such registered inferior persons would have to be made known to marriage license clerks, clergymen and officers qualified to perform marriages and to courts dealing with criminals, under the plan suggested.

MEXICO RAILWAY RATES INCREASED

MEXICO CITY, June 15—(AP)—The Mexican national railway, which the government gave to its 48,000 workers six weeks ago, today boosted freight rates over government objections.

In defiance of an order yesterday by the federal communication department's rates commission against the new schedules, freight charges were increased 5, 10 and 20 per cent on foodstuffs, raw materials for industry and other necessities.

Salvador J. Romero, general manager, has insisted the 8,526-mile system's freight rates must be increased if it was to be operated on an "economic basis."

In line with that policy, he declared, notice has been served on the mining industry, Mexico's largest, that its freight rates would be increased an average of 43 per cent this month. Spokesmen for wining interests declared the boosts would be "ruinous."

Truck Strike At Pittsburgh Ends

PITTSBURGH, June 15—(AP)—An agreement in which "both sides made concessions" brought an end today to a strike of long distance motor truck drivers which for two weeks had tied up the movement of motor freight in and out of Pittsburgh.

Officials of the A. F. L. truck drivers union and representatives of 58 member firms of the western Pennsylvania motor carriers conference signed a new agreement last night.

Terms of the compromise were not made public.

The secretary of the interior said he was very anxious to get back to Washington "to find out what's going on."

The Ickes were married at Dublin May 24.

INTER-UNION STRIFE TIES UP WPA SHOW

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Inter-union strife today tied up the WPA drama hit, "One Third of a Nation," produced by the federal theater project.

The 140th performance was cancelled last night when 42 stage hands, members of the American Federation of Labor struck in protest over the federal theater's refusal to remove Charles Rosenberg, sound technician and member of a CIO union.

PRIMARY DEADLINE WILL BE JUNE 30

In an opinion given to Lorin V. Jones, county clerk of Nemaha county, Attorney General Richard Hunter has suggested that the best thing for a candidate to do, who desires to run in the primaries on August 9, is to file on June 29, but in any event the filing must be in the office of the secretary of state at closing time on June 30.

Sinclair Abandons New Deal; Joins Progressives

PASADENA, Cal., June 15—(AP)—Upton Sinclair said today he had abandoned the New Deal as inadequate and gone over to the progressive party under the leadership of the La Follettes.

The book-writing former socialist was an ardent supporter of New Deal objectives when he changed his registration to democratic and ran a close race for governor in 1934.

He telegraphed Gov. Phillip La Follette of Wisconsin he was altering his registration from democratic to progressive, saying: "The depression drags on with its hideous toll of human suffering and I have come reluctantly to the conclusion that Franklin D. Roosevelt has no idea what to do about it . . .

"At exactly the right time, you and your brother, U. S. Senator Robert La Follette, have given to the country a brave new party."

War Debts To U. S. Increase By 100 Million

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—War debts to the United States increased by more than $100,000,000 today instead of diminishing as the June installments fell due.

Of the 13 debtor nations, only Finland, one of the smallest, paid the full installment.

Most of the debtors, including the largest, Great Britain, expressed willingness to discuss debt settlement when a propitious moment presented itself.

Interest of $104,900,000 went unpaid today, and brought the total debt close to $13.000,000,000. Defaulting began five years ago.

The June installment due today was $211,733,194, made up of $91,882,404 principal, $104,925,943 interest and $14,924,845 under the moratorium agreements.

The amount previously due and unpaid was $1,679,928,476, making a total of $1,891,661,670.

Anthony De Balasy, Hungarian charge d'affaires, was expected to make a part payment, meanwhile expressing the hope that Hungary's proposal for a debt settlement would be accepted.

Abandon Hope for Omaha Bridge Bill

Act Designed To Remove 2 Board Members

Adjournment Pressure Is Too Great, Says McLaughlin

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Representative McLaughlin (D-Neb.), abandoned hope today of securing passage of legislation to remove two private members from the Dodge street bridge board and replace them with the state engineers of Nebraska and Iowa.

Pre-adjournment pressure of major legislation, McLaughlin said, apparently would make futile any attempt on his part to get the bill before the house.

Requested By Cochran.

Governor Cochran of Nebraska asked the legislation on the ground Henry L. Kieser of Omaha, board chairman, had held up the filing of an application for a $2,300,000 reconstruction corporation loan to finance construction of a proposed bridge between Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Economy Plea Made by Boys' State Governor

Dafoe Delivers Message To Legislature; Hear Cline On Court Work

William Dafoe, governor of Boys' State, called for economy and efficiency in government in his message to the legislature Wednesday afternoon.

The boy governor suggested coordination of all law enforcement agencies and civil service reforms and extension as two possible forms of state action.

A lecture on courts and their functions by Earl Cline preceded actual court work in the morning. District and supreme court sessions were held, under the direction of Lincoln attorneys. Facts of test cases were presented and submitted to the court. The Supreme court swore in state officers appointed yesterday.

Cline explained the duties of the courts as part of the state government and outlined their organization and procedure. Max Towle, county attorney, will speak on law enforcement at the evening session.

Reduction In Platte Utility Valuation Is Proposed By Smith

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Platte county supervisors had a letter today from State Tax Commissioner W. H. Smith notifying them of a proposed reduction in the franchise valuation of the Northwestern Public Service company because of steps taken by the city of Columbus to acquire its own municipal power plant.

The letter from Smith said in 1937 the state board of equalization allocated Platte county $39,575 as its share of the company's franchise valuation, of which $23,225 was marked for the city of Columbus subject to municipal, school, and county tax levies.

The city of Columbus, the letter from Smith noted, has voted to acquire its own municipal power system, and the validity of the election has been sustained by the court.

"Under the circumstances," Smith wrote, "it is the view of this department that the total franchise valuation of the Northwestern Public Service company should be revised to the amount at least of the allocation to the city of Columbus and that no franchise valuation for the county should be allowed to Columbus in 1938."

The reduction would slash city and school district revenue $400 each, and the county revenue by $900, board supervisors said. A hearing on the proposal will be held Friday.

Sheriff Says Schamel Admits Fake Holdup; Charge Embezzlement

McCOOK, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Harry Schamel, 40, Indianola light and water commissioner, waived preliminary hearing here in Red Willow county court to a charge of embezzling $300 in city funds and was bound over to District court.

Sheriff Emmet Trosper said Schamel confessed to a shortage of approximately $290 in his accounts, and admitted perpetrating a "fake" robbery at the Indianola light and water office June 1 in which $300 and a ledger were reported stolen. Schamel is a former marshal at Indianola.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Oldest Living Nebraskan, 106, Gets No Enjoyment From Life

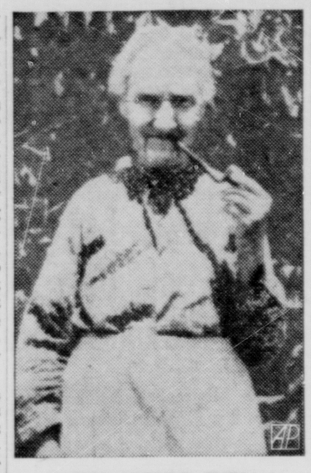

NORFOLK, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Mrs. Lucinda Cline, 106, of Wisner, oldest living Nebraskan, "doesn't enjoy life any more" and she "would rather be dead."

She made these statements while visiting at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. August Putjenter. Mrs. Cline is unusually active, considering her advanced age, and engages in small daily household tasks such as peeling potatoes, setting the table, washing dishes, and dusting furniture.

Mrs. Cline expressed a desire to visit her native state, Virginia, but she doesn't expect to have that wish gratified. If she had her life to live over, she said, "I'd live better. I'd just work and pass away my time."

She would rather walk than ride in an automobile, and enjoys listening to the radio programs while smoking her pipe—a constant companion. She smokes for a few minutes about 20 times a day, from early morning until she retires at night.

Mrs. Cline has more than 40 grandchildren, and some great-great grandchildren. She has three living sons and a daughter. One of the sons, William George, lives at Omaha.

MRS. LUCINDA CLINE

She celebrated her 106th birthday last Feb. 15. When she was born, Andrew Jackson was president of the United States, there were only 25 states in the union, and it was 29 years before the Civil war.

Loup District Loses In Move To Get Benefits

Supreme Court Refuses To Review Case Over Drainage Ditch

The Nebraska Supreme court in a decision handed down Wednesday sustained the Platte county District court in its refusal to review the case of the Loup River Public Power district in its attempt to collect "benefits" from the Platte county and the Union Pacific railroad for a drainage ditch constructed by the power district.

The power district appealed from the decision of the county board, on its assessment of benefits against the two defendants. The court holds that in the matter of benefit assessments appeal, must be made to the county court, leaving the District and Supreme courts as courts of review, which would not be the case if the matter was one of damages or cost of construction. After examining the engineer's report, the Supreme court said, "an examination of the evidence in this case discloses that an appeal under the statues was not authorized because this was an assessment of benefits."

Other Opinions.

The court also handed down opinions in seven other cases.

It confirmed a judgment secured in Douglas county by Mrs. R. F. Moore, against the Washington National Insurance company, because of the accidental death of her husband who was insured by the company as a part of a newspaper subscription. The company declined to pay the claim because it claimed the policy had been cancelled because of non-payment of the subscription and the premium incident thereto. The Douglas county district court, however, held that no proper notice of cancellation of the policy had been given to the insured, except the probability that a general letter had been sent to delinquent subscribers, which the court held was not sufficient.

The court reversed and remanded for further procedure a Douglas county case in which the Orchard-Wilhelm company sought to garnishee $750 held by Frank McGrath, District court clerk, belonging to Grenville North, Omaha attorney against whom the furniture company had a claim. The high court reversed the case because, it said, the trial court had not permitted certain evidence to be presented to establish the ownership of the money. North had made an assignment of the funds.

The court affirmed the Dawson county District court which refused to give Earl L. Nelson judgment against Ralph E. Rosenberg for alleged slanderous and defamatory remarks about him. In affirming the lower court's refusal to consider the matter serious, the high court said the spoken language at issue was not "actionable."

The court reversed and dismissed an action appealed from Otoe county in which Paul Ritter won a judgment against Struve P. Herring, growing out of an auto accident near Palmyra on Sept. 10, 1936. The case was reversed because, the court said, the evidence showed that the plaintiff was also guilty of "more than slight negligence."

The court affirmed the Douglas county judgment in the case of Frank Heinisch against the Travellers Mutual Insurance company involving an attorney's lien upon a client's claim against the company; affirmed a case from Cherry county in which the Northwestern Life Insurance company was unsuccessful in seeking to foreclose on farm of Thomas C. Mayhew and others in payment of a $1,000 note; affirmed in a case decided in Adams county between Charles F. Barth and Cora Reber, involving a foreclosure, in which the State Bank of Milford was impleded with the holder of the property.

Buffalo County Crop Outlook Is Bright; Record Potato Acreage

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., June 15—Confirming unofficial reports that this year's Buffalo county crop outlook is unusually good, Leonard Wenzel, Buffalo county agricultural agent, declared "Indications are that the crop will be above normal this year."

Uniformly good is the corn stand, with only a small acreage planted. Replacing corn this year is chiefly sorghum crops and barley. The drouth and grasshopper resistant qualities of sorghum crops is the reason for their extensive substitution for corn here. Potato acreage this year reaches the record of more than 2,800 acres. With fields in full bloom, 24-hour a day irrigation started today.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 acres of Buffalo county land has been planted in sugar beets this year; some replanting has been necessitated by cold damp weather at planting time, cut worm damage, and grasshopper infestation, but generally Wenzl believes beet chances to be favorable. Cutting and thinning operations were begun this week by most beet farmers.

Grasshopper damage is worst in Odessa and Elm Creek alfalfa districts, where some farmers are covering their entire farms with poison, distributed by home made spreaders. Kearney's grasshopper poison plant is turning out 300 bags of poison a day.

Because pennycress and other milk contaminating weeds have seeded, thus becoming unpalatable to cattle, and because pastures now have other green material, 'weedy cream' has declined 75 per cent at creameries in the past three weeks. In the past, as much as 25 per cent of the cream offered was 'weedy,' according to creamery operators.

More pigs than usual are being fed this year in Buffalo county. The condition of livestock is good, there now being plenty of green feed in this sector. For livestock, too, Agent Wenzl predicts a bumper crop.

Lightning Strikes Hay Barn At Pioneers Park; Loss Placed At $1,500

A small hay barn in the buffalo pen at Pioneers park was destroyed by fire after it was struck by lightning early Tuesday evening. Park Superintendent Chet Ager estimated the loss at approximately $1,500. Twenty tons of baled hay and a baling machine were destroyed in the blaze, Ager said. The alarm was turned in at 6:23 p. m. It was not covered by insurance and will not be rebuilt, Ager said.

12,000 IN INDIA DIE OF CHOLERA

Epidemic Hits Area In Extreme North; 2,000 Perish In One Week; Doctors Mobilize

LUCKNOW, India, June 15—(AP)—One of the worst cholera epidemics in modern history has taken 12,000 lives in the past seven weeks in the united provinces, an area in India's extreme north.

Two thousand died in one week alone.

British and Indian medical authorities have mobilized hundreds of physicians to combat the disease.

Cholera In Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, June 15—(AP)—Cholera reached epidemic proportions in Shanghai tonight, with 123 cases in hospitals, of which 73 originated in foreign-administered areas of the city, according to the municipal authorities.

A Japanese spokesman said eight Chinese died in Japanese-occupied Soochow, 50 miles west of here, and 14 others had contracted the disease.

The British steamer Shuntien was quarantined at Chefoo, on the north Shantung coast, after one cholera death aboard.

C. I. O. Again Loses Demand On Congress

they thought that at this stage of the game it would be unwise to attempt to pass this amendment. For all of those reasons I told him I thought it was not my purpose to suspend the rules and pass this bill."

Referring to the committee's refusal to approve the wage-hour bill, Lewis remarked that the house membership twice overruled the group and forced floor consideration by the petition route.

"I am confident the same thing would occur again if time permitted," he said. "Lacking time we simply asked the speaker to permit a roll call vote on this question."

Second Visit.

Lewis made a personal appearance in Bankhead's office two days ago. He told house leaders and members of the rules committee at that time that he wanted the bill passed "with a vengeance."

Yesterday the rules committee pointedly refused to accede to his demands. The committee's stand meant that only by a two-third vote of the house membership could the measure be called to the floor for action.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced what he called Lewis' "brazen invasion" of the speaker's office.

Orchard Says Credit Associations In State Are Well Supervised

Claude R. Orchard, director of the credit union section of the farm credit administration of Washington, D. C., complimented the Nebraska Co-operative Credit association and congratulated Nebraska for having a state banking department which has done "a splendid job" of supervising the co-operative credit associations, at a chamber of commerce luncheon Wednesday noon.

Orchard spoke to 20 representatives of local credit unions at an impromptu gathering. He was in Lincoln on an extended tour that includes cities with organized credit unions.

"Credit unions are organized primarily to promote thrift and to lessen the difficulties brought about by the practice of usury," he said. After a brief talk he discussed some of the common problems of credit unions with the members and outlined the purposes and hopes of the movement. He left early Wednesday afternoon for Colorado. Rex Smith was the toastmaster.

'Forgotten Woman' Of Cook County Jail Loses Freedom Fight

CHICAGO, June 15—(AP)—Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer, "the forgotten woman of the county jail," lost her fight for freedom in the Federal court today.

Judge Charles E. Woodward denied the 52-year-old widow's request for a writ of habeas corpus and held in a brief memorandum that there was no apparent illegality in her confinement in the Cook county jail for nearly four years.

Mrs. Tegtmeyer has been in jail for failure to obey a Circuit court order for an accounting involving $30,000 in the estate of her father-in-law, of which her late husband was executor.

endangered today as never before," District Judge E. L. Meyer of Alliance urged 175 delegates attending the state Elks convention to aid in overcoming the peoples' apathy toward political problems.

Speaking at the annual Flag day exercises for the organization, Judge Meyer listed naziism, fascism and communism as steps backward—"backward a thousand years"—and added that America should never submit to such doctrines.

Straight Townsend, Scottsbluff city attorney, gave a detailed history of the American flag, dating from the split with the mother country and displayed various flags used by the United States.

Annual Banquet.

T. C. Lord, second vice president of the Nebraska Elks lodge, presented Fremont with the Frank Rain cup for excellence in ritualistic work at a banquet attended by Elks and Does Tuesday night.

Harry L. Stevens of Fremont accepted the cup. Short talks were made by Mrs. Leonora Dooley of Fort Dodge, Ia., supreme president of the Does; Mrs. James W. Craddock of Omaha, founder of the Does; Fred L. Harrison of Grand Island, past state Elks' lodge president; Fred Dickson of Kearney, second vice president; J. C. Travis of Omaha, first vice president; J. L. Martin of Scottsbluff, state president.

A dance climaxed the entertainment.

Staskiewicz Denies Charges Against Him

A flat denial to all charges against him was made by Vernon Staskiewicz, South Omaha tavern operator, at a liquor commission hearing Wednesday afternoon. Staskiewicz is cited for revocation of his license on the grounds of selling hard liquor without a license.

The Omahan denied selling any hard liquor or that any of his employes did so. When questioned about the incident in his tavern last Friday night when two state liquor inspectors were badly beaten, Staskiewicz said the attackers entered by a back door, attacked the two men and then left. He declared he did not know them.

C. E. Sandall, state director for the new brewers and beer distributors association, was present to demand revocation of Staskiewicz' license if the evidence bears out charges against him.

The court directed the Western Newspaper Union's directors to show cause on Friday why a temporary injunction should not be issued.

Speeches Threaten Delay Adjournment

thought a compromise could be reached promptly.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley, asked when adjournment might be reached, would say only, "Wait and see."

O'Mahoney said he was "not concerned with a filibuster" against the bill, but asserted he did not know how long the speech-making might continue.

His attack was on provisions which he claimed would abrogate state's rights.

Demands Explanation.

O'Mahoney demanded that Barkley "explain why the consent of states" was not stipulated in the bill.

He urged the majority leader to agree to return of the bill to conference for insertion of the words "with consent of states" after the provision giving the federal government full title to lands involved in construction of reservoirs and dams.

When O'Mahoney quit Senator Burke (D-Neb.), pitched in for a bit to contend the federal government had no right to acquire land for building sites without the consent of the states.

Administration leaders thought they had arranged a quick cleanup of remaining legislation to let members catch midnight trains for home—and re-election campaigns.

With the wage-hour bill finally enacted, the senate gave partial approval last night to the $3,753,000,000 relief and public works bill.

Then, shortly before midnight (C. S. T.), the $375,000,000 flood control bill provoked a round of lively senate debate which participants called "discussion" and administration lieutenants described as "filibuster."

The bill already had been passed by both senate and house, differences had been compromised by a joint committee, and the house had accepted the compromise.

O'Mahoney Leads Fight.

In controversy in the senate, however, was a provision requiring the government to bear the cost of dam and reservoir construction, plus the cost of condemnation proceedings. States would not be required to put up any money.

The government also would be given broad condemnation powers for flood control projects and could build dams in one state even if other states would receive most of the benefits.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), who led the fight against these provisions, contended they would abrogate states' rights.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, told the senate it must dispose of the flood control bill before adjournment.

"We don't have to adjourn this week," he told reporters. "If opponents want to keep on talking, we can stay here."

Reject Relief Bill Changes.

Before encountering the flood control deadlock, the senate approved most provisions of the relief bill but refused to accept two house amendments.

One of these would cut from $1,000,000 to $500,000 the sum allocated to the rural electrification administration for administrative expenses. The other would set up a new formula for distributing the payments from the $212,000,000 provided for additional farm benefits.

The controversial points went back to a joint senate-house committee which originally composed differences between relief bills passed by the two chambers.

In the original senate measure, about $100,000,000 of the farm benefits would have gone to cotton about $50,000,000 to wheat, and about $50,000,000 to corn.

The house substituted a formula which would cut cotton's share to about $83,000,000 and would substantially increase the sum going to corn growers.

Wage Bill To White House.

The wage-hour bill, one of President Roosevelt's major recommendations, received a top-heavy 290-to-89 vote of approval yesterday in the house. The senate, without even bothering to call the roll, sent it on to the white house for the president's assured signature.

The two chambers spent most of last evening approving or rejecting piles of run-of-the-mine legislation. Galleries were crowded, and spectators lined up in corridors in a vain effort to gain admittance.

In the senate, where a deficiency appropriation bill was under consideration, a dozen members at a time demanded the floor.

More than $6,000,000 was tacked onto the $279,000,000 measure as blue-clad pages rushed one amendment after another to the clerk's desk. Final action was deferred.

On the paper-littered floor of the house, representatives worked calmly to push the session toward an end.

The chamber accepted, 237 to 33 a senate resolution for a $500,000 anti-trust inquiry by three senators, three house members and representatives of the labor, commerce, treasury and justice departments and the federal trade and securities commissions.

Radio Iquiry Defeated.

Shortly before quitting work last night, the house defeated a proposal to investigate charges of monopoly in the radio industry. The vote was 234 to 101.

Chairman O'Connor (D.-N.Y.), of the rules committee supported the resolution, but Rep. Warren (D.-N.C.), an administration backer, declared it developed from complaints by a "disgruntled smart aleck on the federal communications commission."

George Henry Payne, republican member of the commission, had been urging the inquiry on the ground that the commission had been "susceptible to outside pressures."

In mid-afternoon yesterday, Chairman Wagner (D.-N.Y.) of the senate banking committee won white house clearance on legislation to liberalize government loans to railroads, but last minute developments made it unlikely the measure would pass at this session.

Congressional leaders, however, expressed confidence a bill to create a separate unemployment insurance system for railroad workers would be enacted.

Truckers Resume Contract Parley

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—Executive committees of the Nebraska Commercial Truckers association and the Omaha truck drivers union resumed negotiations here today on a new contract to replace one that expired June 1.

The later meeting of the two groups broke up May 31 when the committees found themselves unable to agree on wage and hour provisions, seniority, the closed shop and other issues.

M'Call Insists Didn't Mean To Kill Cash Child

Florida Kidnaper Found Guilty; Sentence Will Be Imposed Thursday

MIAMI, Fla., June 15—(AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21 was found guilty of kidnaping James Bailey Cash, jr., today by Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson, who said he would impose sentence tomorrow morning.

Judge Atkinson, who could sentence the truck driver and minister's son to the electric chair for the $10,000 ransom kidnaping, said relatives of McCall had sent a lawyer here who wanted to examine the record.

Therefore he deferred sentencing although the defense closed its case with testimony of McCall himself, who detailed his actions in the abduction and concluded with the plea:

"It was the first time I was ever involved in anything like this. No one else ever had money tempt them that much."

He took the stand after the state completed its case and detailed his abduction of the 5-year-old lad from his bed at Princeton May 8, but insisted he did not mean to cause his death.

"I placed two large, white, clean handkerchiefs over his face," McCall related. "I went out the back door. He appeared to be sleeping.

Carries Boy To His Home.

"I carried him in both arms and held the handkerchiefs over his mouth and I guess over his nose but I didn't know it. I walked home.

"It was dark, and when I got home I put Skeegie on the bed and shook him and called his name but got no answer.

"I was afraid and tried artificial respiration to try and wake him up. I got cold water from the icebox and bathed his face but he didn't wake up.

"I knew he was dead. He didn't struggle or move. I saw he was dead and didn't know what to do.

"I picked him up and started out the back door. I didn't have any particular place in mind and went through the woods back of the house to the place where the body was found and placed it there.

"Then I went home and got the ransom note——."

Father First Witness.

The father, as the first witness, testified briefly that he had a child, that "he is buried" now and that he identified the pajamas found on the body, which he did not view himself.

The victim's mother took the stand and said she put her son to bed and went over to the grocery store. "I came back to the house and came in and looked in his little bed and found it empty. Then I turned on the lights and began to look around."

She was escorted from the room on the verge of weeping after identifying Skeegie's pajamas.

Warning On Medical Care For Indigent

leadership and help in the meeting of the vast human problems of today."

Dr. Draper said a higher rate of sickness and a deficiency of medical care was noted among the impoverished in a national survey.

"Never before," he continued, "had such a mountain of evidence been assembled to sustain the conclusion that among the poor there is an excess of sickness and death which requires preventive services and medical care proportionately greater than are required in the higher income groups."

No Change In Policy.

The house of delegates decided to make no changes in its policy of contraceptives. It reported its stand did not constitute an endorsement of birth prevention practices and added:

"The house of delegates feels that the problem is essentially a medical problem."

The delegates also qualifiedly endorsed the motion picture film "The Birth of a Baby," by recommending that it be shown only to adults and only with the approval of county medical societies.

A new medical organization to deal with the terrific toll of auto and machine accidents was formed under the name of the American Association for Traumatic Surgery.

ARMIES OF BOTH SIDES FLEE FLOOD

over which a Japanese column recently thrust at the Peiping-Hankow railway near Changko in an effort to cut the railroad between Chengchow and Hankow, the Chinese provisional capital 300 miles south.

Flowing over the east-west Lunghai railway, in some places at a depth of five feet, the onrushing waters interposed a complete barrier to a Japanese advance upon Chengchow and to their push further south toward the vital north-south Peiping-Hankow line.

For the moment Kaifeng, to which Japanese troops had been forced to retreat, was declared to be safe, though surrounded by high water. Kaifeng is 43 miles east of Chengchow.

Japanese military spokesmen offered no information on exact whereabouts of their troops in the flood area although it was assumed most of them, with motorized equipment, would be able to avoid the main course of the flood.

Facing danger more violent than that of war by remaining at their posts, foreign missionaries at Kaifeng were maknig efforts to organize Chinese farmers and civilians in combatting the waters.

Relief workers said the flood perhaps would bring a problem as great as that created by the war.

An estimated 30,000,000 refugees already were streaming westward from war-demolished homes before water forced cut other thousands from scores of villages.

About 350 miles south of the flood area Japanese continued a relentless drive up the Yangtze river toward Hankow.

Hear Testimony On Potato Market Plan

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., June 15—(AP)—AAA officials presented testimony dealing with operation of the 1937 potato marketing program at the hearing here today on the proposed permanent marketing control pact.

William Case, field representative for the Wyoming-Nebraska-Colorado area under the 1937 pact said restriction on number two grades in the 1937 season "did place some districts in a worse situation than others, but this was adjusted more than you think by exemptions granted on number two grades."

Man Convicted Of Ashby Holdup Says Confession Forced

Asserts Mistreated By Douglas County Officers; Story Is Termed Ridiculous

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15—(AP)—Arthur E. Collins, Ovid, Colo., has sought release from Alcatraz prison on a writ of habeas corpus petition in Federal court. Collins was convicted of robbing the Grant County State bank at Ashby, Neb., and was arrested at Fort Morgan, Colo. He was sentenced to 15 years at Leavenworth penitentiary, and later was transferred to Alcatraz.

Collins contended that while he was awaiting trial in the Douglas county jail, Omaha, jailers "worked him over" by feeding him laundry soap, burning him with cigars, and starving him to make him confess. Collins' petition stated he was handed blank pieces of paper to sign and that his "confession" was written by other persons on the signed papers.

Calls It "Ridiculous."

OMAHA, June 15— (AP) — Sheriff John Hopkins of Douglas county, said "it's ridiculous" when informed of a statement by Arthur E. Collins, federal prisoner seeking release from Alcatraz, that he was "worked over" by jailers while held in Omaha.

Hopkins pointed out that Collins was in the county jail here for safekeeping as a federal prisoner.

"The federal government would not tolerate our molesting him." Hopkins said in denying that jailers here had fed Collins laundry soap, burned him with cigars and starved him to make him "confess" to a bank robbery.

While held here Collins claimed insanity, but doctors failed to find him mentally ill, Hopkins stated.

60-Mile Wind Does Much Minor Damage

Emerald and Denton, and the REA wires were all out, E. A. Schmid, district superintendent, said.

Telephone service was also hampered by the storm, according to the Lincoln Telephone Co. The Lincoln-Grand Island lead was out at Emerald until 11 Tuesday night, and the line to Omaha was still out Wednesday morning, with damage to the lead at the Plattsmouth bridge.

Bus Washed Off Road.

At Walthill 2 inches of rain fell in a half an hour, washing out roads and flooding the lowlands. An Interstate bus was swept off the highway a mile north of that community, and a tractor and road grader were needed to get it back on the road. The bus, with 10 passengers, was enroute to Omaha.

The Associated Press reported that the Walthill storm was accompanied by hail.

Tree Uprooted.

Storm damage over Lincoln included the uprooting of a sizable tree on the lawn at the Municipal building, the breaking of numerous heavy branches over the city, and many windows, including some downtown. The Krause Roofing Co., 212 South Ninth street, had a window out, and a glass door at the north entrance of the Sharp building was broken.

The fire department answered calls caused by leveled electric wires, as follows: 1224 South Eighth; 2230 South Thirteenth, and 1730 P street.

The weather bureau reported Omaha as the hottest spot in the state Tuesday, with a reading of 90. Lincoln's high was 88. North Platte and Burwell had the lowest readings—54.

Precipitation reported by the weather bureau was headed by a fall of 1.07 at Red Cloud. Tekamah had .47, Omaha and Sioux City, .40, Lincoln .20, and other smaller reports, tapering to .01 at Valentine.

A driving and lashing rain Tuesday evening, recording .81 of an inch, leveled much of Richardson county's wheat crop, the Associated Press reported. A fall of from a half to an inch was received in Webster county.

Rainfall reported by the Lincoln Telephone Co. included:

O'Malley Staff Reduced

OMAHA, June 15 — (AP) — George W. O'Malley, federal collector of internal revenue here, dismissed 19 of his 103 employes. The dismissals, effective Wednesday, were by order of Guy T. Helvering, commissioner of internal revenue at Washington, and came as the result of a cut from $16,570,000 to $15,000,000 in the department's annual appropriation, O'Malley stated.

and for irrigated land as far west as North Platte, he pointed out. Hybrid corn has passed the experimental stage and has proven itself a real advancement in profitable corn production under the more favorable growing conditions. But in sections where normal corn yields are low, it is doubtful if it will ever pay to plant hybrid corn, Gross concluded.

Dr. K. S. Quisenberry cited results of tests comparing Kanota, a popular winter oats variety, with standard spring varieties such as Nebraska 21.

"From these tests it would seem that Kanota is slightly inferior in yield to Nebraska 21 in Nebraska," he declared. "For very early seeding it is probably a little more safe to use Kanota. For late seeding do not use Kanota."

Sorghum Harvesting.

R. L. Cushing discussed problems encountered in harvesting grain sorghums. Methods of harvesting described included hand heading, use of the wagon box header, binding and combining. Cushing remarked that cash costs of harvesting as determined by the agricultural college vary from 3 cents a bushel with a 16-foot combine to 8 cents a bushel with a 12-foot header, 10 cents a bushel for hand heading and 15 cents a bushel with a row binder."

Means of eradicating bad weeds had a part on the morning program also. J. V. Srb told the crowd of bindweed districts organized under the recent state law. There are 28,000 acres in the Scottsbluff district. The Platte Valley district is made up of parts of four precincts totaling 51,000 acres and a district in Seward county of 36,000 acres is now being organized.

"All landowners in a district share in the cost of organization and administration," Mr. Srb pointed out. "Each land owner stands the cost of actual eradication of his own infestation."

Use of Straw.

The question of what should be done with the heavy growth of straw in small grain crops was discussed by M. D. Weldon.

Citing experimental data, Weldon pointed out that on the average straw did not depress the yields of wheat and corn, but on the contrary increased them from two to three bushels per acre The data showed that straw was most beneficial to those crops in years when the yields were low.

Returning straw to the land is a soil-conserving practice while burning is a soil-depleting practice, it was pointed out. Early plowing was practiced consistently on the plats where the experiments were performed. Weldon said it is an important factor in obtaining favorable results from plowing straw under in preparation for wheat. Late plowing under may result in poor decomposition.

DE WEESE RESIDENTS ASK RAIL HEARING

The state railway commission has received a request of officials and citizens of the town of De Weese for a public hearing on the application of the Burlington railroad for permission to substitute a "custodian" for the regular agent at that point. The date for the hearing has not yet been set.

The Burlington railroad has filed an application for permission to substitute a custodian for the agent at Cedar Creek.

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed today bills extending the time for starting the authorized Missouri-Nebraska interstate bridge across the Missouri river near Brownville, Neb., one year from June 19, 1938 and the time for completing it three years from June 19,1938; and extending the time for commencing a bridge authorized to be built across the Missouri river near Rulo, Neb., one year until June 14, 1939 and the time for completing it three years until June 14, 1941.

Begin Gage Harvest Next Week; Expect Yields to 40 Bushels

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., June 15—Farmers report that early wheat is ripening fast and will be ready to cut in about a week. In some localities yields as high as 40 bushels to the acre are forecast while in others the grain will not make more than 5 or 10 bushels because of red rust damage.

Decision For Defendant In Accounting Suit

District Judge Polk has decided for the defendant in the accounting action of Kenneth D. Kimmel against the Nehi Bottling Co., Inc., in which Kimmel asked for an accounting and judgment for the amount allegedly due him in the form of commissions on gross sales while he was in the employ of the company. The amount asked was approximately $2,000.

FATHER, SON TRAPPED IN MINE SAVED

Two Had Been Entombed In Pennsylvania Pit Since Monday; Appear In Good Condition

ASHLAND, Pa., June 15—(AP)—A father and son, trapped in a makeshift mine since early Monday, were brought out today by rescuers.

"Thank God, I'm out of there," were the father's first words. His son was too weary to speak.

A physician said both Peter Shinoskowsky, 48, of Shenandoah, and Peter, jr., 17, appeared to be in good condition.

Wrapped in blankets and with eyes closed, both walked about 25 feet to cars and were taken to a hospital.

The elder Shinskowsky's daughter, Mary, stood by, too tired to show emotion when the men were brought out. Her mother, who had kept an almost constant vigil for two days, was resting at home.

The cavein was caused by failure of a makeshift device for lifting coal from the slope. It loosened the timbers and allowed the sides to crumble.

The Shinskowskys were protected from falling rock in the passage where they took refuge.

The pair had been trapped in a passage of the mine 100 feet below the surface. Rescue workers tunneled a new entry.

Army Offcers Lead Search For Missing Minnesota Child, 4

PINE RIVER, Minn., June 15—(AP) — Army officers took command of the search for 4-year-old Richard Harley Ware today, after three days and four nights of fruitless hunting by volunteers and CCC workers.

Adj. Gen. E. A. Walsh of the Minnesota national guard ordered officers from Fort Ripley to direct the activities today, and said national guard troops would be called in if necessary.

Field kitchens were rolled in to feed the hundreds of searchers beating their way through tangled brush and wiry swamp grass in the seven-mile square bog into which the barefoot lad disappeared last Saturday when he wandered away from his father's pasture.

Recent rains have made the muddy, pathless swamp more treacherous, and brought out mosquitoes and other insects in increasing swarms.

BLACK STEM RUST HITS KANSAS WHEAT

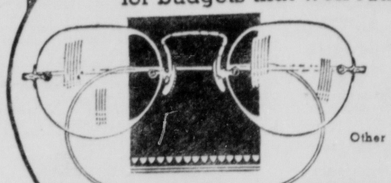

TOPEKA, Kas., June 15—(AP)—Black stem rust has developed extensively in Kansas wheat during the last two weeks, and losses caused by late freezes are becoming more apparent in south central counties as harvest progresses, the federal and state departments of agriculture said today.

The report said rust "seems destined to take a heavier toll of Kansas wheat than was expected earlier."

Attention Socially Centered On Brides

Parties Are Being Held In Honor Of Brides-Elect; Patriarchs Meeting For A Dinner Session

WE WERE just wondering what a Soc Ed would do without June brides—For instance, so far as today is concerned, socially speaking, if it weren't for some of the attractive brides-to-be, we might just as well be in the middle of the Sahara desert on a mid-August afternoon. But, as luck will have it, there are brides, and for these brides there are a number of parties.

Today, of course, Miss Margaret Straub and Miss Marjorie Souders of Auburn were hostesses to twenty-four guests at a luncheon at the Lincoln Country club for Miss Virginia Selleck—And, as a surprise to the bride-to-be—there was also a handkerchief shower. Following the luncheon the guests went to Miss Straub's home for bridge.

THEN WE FOUND that Miss Ruth Johnson, whose marriage to William Hammond of Pittsburgh, Pa., will take place June 25, and Miss Jane Edwards, whose marriage to Lloyd Cleveland will be an event of the autumn, will share honors at a tea to be given Saturday afternoon between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock, by Mrs. E. H. Polley at her home.

TONIGHT is the night that the Patriarchs are meeting for dinner at the Lincoln Country club. Dinner places will be arranged for thirty-five, and all of the arrangements are in charge of Miss Helen Wilson.

SPEAKING OF the L. C. C.—it was also ladies' bridge day, today—There were a number of foursome reservations — there were also some combined foursomes which made groups of eight and twelve—Mrs. M. Olive Watson reserved a table for the latter group, and Mrs. E. B. Drake had a table for nine. Miss Jane Austin of Beatrice presided at a table for eight, and Mrs. Clarence Emerson had a fivesome reservation. The foursome reservations were made by Mrs. Joseph Wishart, Mrs. Don Stewart, Mrs. Norman Carlson, Mrs. O. E. Jerner, Mrs. W. J. Turner, Mrs. Will Beachly, Mrs. S. A. Budd Regrets Rail Relief Failure; Says Bills Did Not Meet Problem

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—President Ralph Budd of the Burlington railroad, said here today that while decision of congress not to take up railroad relief bills is regrettable, he believes that none of the proposed bills went to the heart of the railroad problem.

The bill to cancel the government's "land grant" half rate would have helped railroads in distress, Budd said. He declared he doubted the value of the bill to liberalize construction finance corporation loans because the trouble with many railroads already is that they owe more money than they can pay interest on.

Most important need now, Budd continued, is a better definition of the basis of rate-making. The railroad, he said, is no longer a monopoly and therefore railroad management should be given some discretion in rate making. The interstate commerce commission is proceeding on the theory the railroad is a monopoly and government should fix all rates, Budd said.

Elks Criticize Fascist Groups

Strong Resolutions Are Adopted; Fremont Is Site For 1939

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Delegates to the Elks lodge state convention selected Fremont as the 1939 convention city and passed resolutions criticizing "dictator-sponsored" organizations in the United States.

Election of officers late in the day was the remaining business to be transacted.

The convention passed a resolution expressing resentment to the "presence in this country of any organization which is dictated to or controlled by any foreign dictator or potentate, and which teaches doctrines contrary to the basic right of all men to liberty and freedom" as set forth in the constitution.

Endorse Program.

Another resolution endorsed the program of congress in investigating all comunistic, nazi and fascist organizations, particularly the German-American Bund, which the resolution charged was "an organization which is annually teaching thousands of youth of America and is attempting to lead those of Aryan blood in this country into un-American and pro-Nazi philosophies."

Gratitude was expressed to the many physicians, dentists and nurses who have aided in the Elks' crippled children clinics, and to August Schneider of Benedict, chairman of the crippled children's welfare division.

Dates for the 1939 convention will include Flag Day. The suggestion was made after the impressive Flag Day ceremony conducted by the Scottsbluff lodge yesterday. Fremont delegates promised to enlarge upon the theme next year, with a public outdoor ceremony planned.

Physician Charged With Mail Fraud

Dr. E. P. Benedict Accused Of Depositing Bonds Stolen In Madison Burglary

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—Federal agents today arrested Dr. Edgar P. Benedict, Omaha physician, on an indictment charging three counts of mail fraud. Charges include assertion that Dr. Benedict had possession of some bonds stolen in a $96,000 Madison, Neb., Building and Loan association burglary, and that he caused the mails to be used in an attempt to sell them.

The indictment, issued by the Federal grand jury last week, charges Dr. Benedict through an Omaha brokerage house deposited several thousand dollars worth of the bonds with local banks, to be sent to transfer agents in Chicago and New York for payment.

In December of last year, George (Shorty) Hart, Le Mars, Ia., was convicted of complicity in the burglary and sentenced to ten years in the Nebraska penitentiary. Hart was arrested in Dr. Benedict's office by state officers.

Speech Habits Of Children Important, N. U. Graduate Says

Incorrect speech habits of the child are not always outgrown unless special help is given, according to Miss Lucile Cypreansen, speech expert who graduated from the University of Nebraska and is now conducting speech clinics in the Lincoln schools. "Where is Sarah?" may become "ver ith Thawa" for all too long a time, she warns.

Miss Cypreansen, who took advanced work at Northwestern, recently won one of several prizes awarded by the Bivin foundation whose directors are interested in studies concerning the emotional, mental and physical life of the child.

Miss Cypreansen found, while working with pupils in the Lincoln schools, that in the grades averaging 300 students, twenty-five or more have definite speech problems. She has noticed that many who are bothered with stammering and other similar difficulties usually have poor breath control and blowing power.

Utility Franchise Valuation Hearing Is Set For Friday

The state board of equalization will meet Friday to hear representatives of public utilities on the matter of fixing the valuation of franchises for the 1938 tax assessment.

One of the problems the board must decide, Smith said, is whether to adopt a general policy of eliminating franchise assessments on private utilities in cities where steps have been taken by cities to establish their own municipal light and power systems. He said that the only two towns affected in that respect at present are York and Columbus.

Smith has asked the county assessors of York and Platte counties to attend the hearing. The franchise assessment of the Iowa-Nebraska Light & Power company in York county is $24,520, of which the city's share is $13,990 and the school district $9,494, and the Northwestern Public Service company in Platte county where the valuation is $39,775, of which $23,225 is credited to the city of Columbus.

Smith said that he personally feels that franchises of private utilities should not be taxed where cities have acquired, or started to acquire their own plants, and where a franchise means nothing for that reason.

Representatives of all private utility companies of the state are expected to attend Friday's meeting.

Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, who completed his filing in the office of the secretary of state, Wednesday, issued a statement of principles for conducting the office setting out efficient and impartial service to all schools, character education and temperance instruction, safeguarding of school funds as provided by the constitution, belief teachers should assume positive leadership, sympathetic co-operation without arbitrary dictation, friendship for rural schools, economy in school expenditures, trained official staff, and refusal to rubber-stamp special interests.

As to his own record during three administrations he points to passage of the new certification law, new elementary course of study, revision of high school courses in normal training, establishment of the Nebraska Education Bulletin issued monthly to every teacher.

Demonstration On Firearms Is Given By Agent

FBI Expert Is Here For Police Meeting; Talk By Schrein Heard

With a spectacular demonstration scheduled for Wednesday evening, law enforcement officers attending the peace officers' institute here saw an instructional show by Special Agent I. E. Nitschke of Washington, D. C., at their third day's meeting.

Nitschke is one of the government's crack marksmen and an authority on all types of firearms. In the evening at the penitentiary Nitschke will demonstrate night raids and the firing of tracer bullets with special FBI equipment.

Talks On Traffic.

In a morning talk, Lieut. R. T. Schrein of the Nebraska highway patrol pointed out that law enforcing officers of the state should be keenly interested in traffic problems because these cases alone cost the state more each year and take more lives than does major crime.

"When you are dealing with the criminal class," Schrein said, "you are concerned with only about 1 per cent of the population, whereas when you deal with traffic violators you are constantly in close touch with 99 per cent of the citizens." He explained the work of the patrol and asked for 100 per cent co-operation between this new organization and the local police.

Not severe punishment but a greater certainty of arrest is the better way to lessen crime, Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, chairman of the institute, stated. He pointed out that it is not always the "bad" people who are criminals and that the average individual has for too long a time believed the law enforcing officer to be "hardboiled," unsympathetic and least understanding of the law violator.

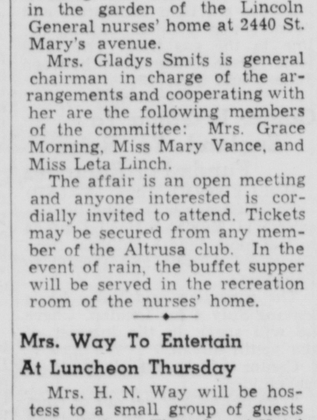

Other speakers were Sgt. L. C. Regler of the campus police; Judge John L. Polk, and Prof. C. B. Nutting of the law college.

Lincoln's Rose Garden

TYPICAL of many letters reaching Park Superintendent Chet Ager these days from those among the thousands inspecting the city parks, who are so enthusiastic they write, is this one:

"It was my privilege to spend yesterday afternoon in your beautiful gardens. The word, beautiful, does not begin to describe the splendor of those gardens. They will do more to make the people flower-minded than any other means I know of. They are the one bright spot in Nebraska and the state should be proud of them. There is a rose in the southwest part of the rose garden—just north of the bed devoted to the Dr. Eckner species—the name of which I would like to know. It has five deep pink roses on a single stem. I desire to add it to my meager rose garden."

For days the lovely spot which Chet Ager and his associates created at Antelope park has been the center of attraction for great throngs, including many people who have come from long distances and who chanced to pass that portion of the park. It represents an investment but more truthfully it reveals a great amount of labor and thought on the part of Mr. Ager. He is doing a monumental service in connection with the parks, the value of which cannot be computed, but which is far beyond the actual expenditures involved.

The rose garden will prove to be a continuing source of pleasure until frost comes.

Out Of Politics

IN THE senate late Tuesday Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska expressed his pleasure that congress had taken the step to place the postal department on a rigid basis of civil service. Those who know him or who have watched his long career will appreciate the truth of his statement that he had sought always to take the post office out of politics. Even his sharpest critics, and he has his political enemies, never have been able to point a finger at him and charge that he sought to utilize patronage as a means of perpetuating himself in office.

His position represents an ideal of public service that is wholesome and good. It represents the wish of the people of the country. In both the abstract and the practical, it can be said with sound foundation that improvement in the caliber of public service can come only through placing political appointment on the basis of merit and qualification for discharging the duties of the office.

But the action in connection with the post office will not prove final unless fortified by aggressive public opinion. When and if there is a change in the administration in national affairs, the party in power will face the temptation to break down civil service, and to fill the postal service with its followers. There mere adoption of more rigid civil service regulation will not mean anything, unless the public, interested only in efficient public service, is on guard to prevent any breach which would return postal savings to the spoils system.

What Else Could He Say?

IN THE British parliament Tuesday, Premier Chamberlain made history. Facing the criticism that on four successive days, British ships had been sunk by the insurgent forces or by government guns in the fighting in Spain, Chamberlain told the British people that unless they were prepared to go to war nothing could be done about it.

That is a wide departure from the British tradition that Britain rules the waves. Wherever the British flag floated, it was the traditional policy of John Bull to enforce the rights of life and property by guns if necessary. The full significance of Chamberlain's statement cannot be overlooked if that tradition is kept in mind. At no time, unless it was in 1920 when the British dominions of Canada, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa, virtually took direction of the foreign policy out of the hands of the mother country, has it occupied the role it now does.

It was that action, little noticed at the time, which undoubtedly fortifies the new course Chamberlain revealed before parliament. And it is the logical outcome of the division that grew up between Anthony Eden and his supporters and the British premier. Eden's insistence that the presence of the soldiers and ships of other countries in Spain's international civil war left only one course open to the British government was met by Chamberlain's vehement defense that any other attitude than he had taken could mean only war.

FUTILE GUNS AND BOMBS

IT MEANS nothing in America, thousands of miles removed from the Orient, to say that China's "River of Sorrow" came to the defense of the hard-pressed armies of Generalissimo Chang Kai Shek when billows of human flesh could not stop the swiftly flowing tide of Japanese armies utilizing modern guns and deadly bombs. Some will look upon it as an act of God in atoning the great wrong of Japan's evil assault upon a helpless nation. But from the day that Shanghai fell, on through to these dramatic recent developments, the Chinese command always had the alternative of turning loose the angry waters of the Yellow river against its foe. The news coming out of the battle area of China suggests that the break in the mighty dikes resulted from inattention but it is impossible to suppress the cynical reflection that China was playing a trump card.

IF 150,000 Chinese peasants drown, and hundreds of thousands more will meet the same fate, what of it in this land where human life has no value? Periodically the "River of Sorrow" has been claiming its victims by the hundreds of thousands when there was no foe at the gates and no invasion of precious native soil to be resisted. And if thousands of Chinese who knew they were living in the shadow of death on the banks of a stream tricky and treacherous, what happened to these strangers, thousands and thousands of them directly in the path of the boiling turmoil, who had come to make China their own?

THE Yellow river rises in the Himalyan mountains in Tibet among lofty peaks buried in eternal snows, and flows eastward, northward, and southward over lowlands upon which frequently torrential rains fall. In Honan province, through which the Japanese armies were driving ahead rapidly, yellow silt, picked up on the Mongolian plains, after the river had emerged from its rocky canyon in the mountainous country of surpassing grandeur, built the bed of the stream 60 and 70 feet above the level of the vast surrounding territory. All that held it in its course were the continuous labors of millions of Chinese workers constructing dikes. And the dikes they built and added to generation after generation only aggravated the menace of floods, which normally reach their greatest height in mid-July.

IT IS still too early to know the full significance of this defense against invasion by a river that in itself was China's traditional enemy. Only broad hints have appeared in the news columns, suggesting that this flood heralded the greatest disaster of modern times. But the Yellow river has appeared in history with monotonous regularity. It was the flood on the Yellow river in 1908, or the misery arising out of that flood among China's population, which precipitated the Boxer uprising of 1908.

IN 1851 near Kaifengfu in Honan the waters surged through protecting dikes, 25 feet above the Chinese plains, and carved a new channel for itself out of the bed of a small stream called the Tsing, and hence to the sea. Since then the new channel has carried the bulk of the waters of the Yellow river and the older southerly route has remained quite dry. For fifteen years the slow, plodding Chinese populations worked unceasingly to repair the damage. But in 1887 only by virtue of the greatest exertion was the Yellow river retained in the channel which it had chosen for itself in 1851. It spread itself over 50,000 square miles of level plain, fertile and productive, into one vast lake, and claimed the lives of a million people. It left from two to three feet of sand over intensely cultivated fields producing the food for hundreds of millions of hungry mouths.

THAT is the wrath which Japan's armies invited. Out of its inexhaustible man power, equipped with modern implements of war, China could not deal the invader the crushing blow which lay within the power of the Yellow river.

Women May Weep

JUSTICE came through with flying colors in a New York City magistrate's court this week when a judge upheld the inalienable right of a woman to weep as long and as noisily as she chooses, anywhere she desires.

A patrolman had arrested a New York woman for lamenting loudly and inexplicably in a bakery but when the case came before the judge he promptly dismissed the charge.

The judge very wisely did not attempt to discourse from the bench on the question of why women weep. Wise men know that cannot be explained. One may as well attempt to explain the riddle of the cosmos or lead a camel through the eye of a needle as tell why women weep. For men that must remain an eternal mystery and be respected as the unquestioned privilege of women everywhere.

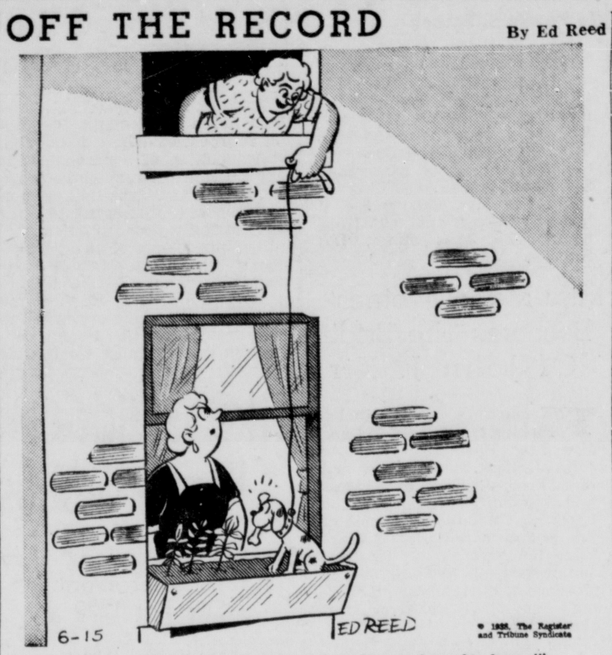

Increasing Livestock

WITH a harvest of wheat and other small grains approaching, the important task in Nebraska, it should be borne in mind, is to rebuild the livestock industry. During the most prosperous years in this state the bulk of farm income came from livestock activities.

The reappearance of young beef cattle on the farm, of little pigs, of dairy cows, and of flocks of chickens will give a stability to the farm home that cannot be had through producing grain for the cash market. And in most of the state the conditions for an abundance of feed could not be improved upon. The first cutting of alfalfa already in the stack in the southern half of the state exceeded expectations and there is adequate moisture for a heavy second cutting. All through the panhandle where immense quantities of wild hay are produced each year, the outlook never was better. There is feed in Nebraska this year and with 8 million acres of corn off to an excellent start, with better than normal reserves of moisture in the soil, the success of the 1938 farm year will depend largely upon rebuilding livestock holdings.

DIET AND HEALTH

WHERE THE LESSER KNOWN VITAMINS ARE OBTAINED

New vitamins constantly are being found. Until a short time ago we got down the alphabet as far as E with vitamins, and the most important ones appear to be A, B, C, D and E. These substances which are present in our food do not contribute to nutrition, but they influence in some mysterious way a number of functions of the body.

Vitamin H is one of the latest to be described. The story of Vitamin H begins with the observations of certain biologists who found that trout studied under experimental conditions could not live unless fed fresh meat. Extending their observations they found that at least four animals, including chickens, dogs and men, required this vitamin. It influences growth and is necessary for growth. Vitamin H is also present in fresh tomatoes, in yeast and in cod liver oil.

Most herbivorous animals require a vitamin which is present in fresh grasses, notably in alfalfa. This grass juice vitamin does not seem to be necessary for men, however.

Vitamin K.

Vitamin K is the coagulation vitamin.. A Danish worker, Professor Dam, found that there was a dietary factor concerned in the property of the blood to coagulate. It is present in vegetables and especially grasses. The highest concentration of Vitamin K occurs in alfalfa juice.

It has been used in concentrated form in the treatment of jaundice. It is a well known fact that patients with jaundice are liable to hemorrhages. Apparently bile in the blood tends to prevent the blood from coagulating. This is very important in those cases of jaundice due to gallstones when operation is necessary. There is a great deal of danger in operating on such a patient due to the possibility of hemorrhage. The preparation of these patients with the use of Vitamin K has resulted in a striking drop in the amount of hemorrhage which might occur after operation.

Vitamin J has been postulated as a factor which helps to prevent infection. It is found in fresh fruit juices.

The future work in new vitamins is probably in the hands of the biologists rather than that of physicians. It has been the biologist, working with animals on a test diet, who has discovered most of the new vitamins mentioned here today.

Question — A. B. C.: "I am a young man 18 years of age. I like to eat plenty of raw peanuts between meals instead of so much meat at meal times. Also they provide plenty of exercise for my teeth and gums. Please tell me through your daily column if raw peanuts contain any elements necessary to body building."

Answer—Peanuts are very nutritious but, like all nuts, they are very indigestible. Most of their nutritional value is lost because they go through the intestine unchanged.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Tommy Explains

For youth the world has pressing need,
And ever youth the call must heed.
—Old Mother Nature.

"Don't be sore, Sammy," said Tommy

Tommy, who is, as you know, Farmer Brown's boy, saw that his cousin was somewhat peeved because he had not been shown the nest of Mrs. Peter Rabbit until now when it was empty.

"Don't be sore, Sammy," said Tommy. "I didn't show you this nest because I didn't dare to."

"I wouldn't have hurt those little Rabbits any more than you would. Sue saw them and I think you might have let me see them," retorted Sammy.

"Sue wouldn't have seen them if she nadn't found the nest herself," replied Tommy.

"And I found it by accident. I wasn't looking for it," said Sue.

"I found it the same way, and after I found it I didn't visit it again. If you keep going to a place you can't help making a trail. Somebody, out of curiosity, is likely to follow it, and that somebody is more than likely to be some one who is hungry for tender babies," explained Tommy.

"If you ask me, that Rabbit was crazy to make her nest way out here in the open when there are such good holes in the ground she could have used if she was too lazy to dig one for herself," said Sammy.

Tommy shook his head. "Wise, not crazy," said he. "I used to think as you do until I learned how difficult it is to find a Rabbit's nest. Holes in the ground are not so hard to find. Rabbits are no fighters and Mrs. Peter would be helpless to stop an enemy from coming down into a hole after her babies."

Johnny Chuck's babies are born in a hole in the ground," interrupted Sammy.

"Sure," replied Tommy. "And their mother is a wicked fighter, quite able to stop any one trying to go down after those babies. That's the difference. So Mrs. Peter hides her babies by making her nest where nobody would expect a nest to be. This time it is right out here in the open. Once I found her nest in the garden. Notice that there is a little hollow in which she made the nest. She scratched that out herself and it is just deep enough so that when the babies lie flat and keep their heads down, even when they are big enough to be ready to leave the nest, no part of them will be above the level of the ground. I've known the cutter of a mowing machine to go over a Rabbit's nest full of young and not harm one of them. See how Mrs. Peter lined this hollow with grass roots, grass and fur. It makes a nice comfortable bed. Then she covers them with this sort of blanket of grass and fur and they are completely hidden. Aren't they, Sue?"

"Indeed they are," replied Sue. "I stood right over this nest and didn't see a thing but this grass and fur. Tommy, where did Mrs. Peter get that fur?"

"From her own breast. She pulls it out with her teeth," replied Tommy.

"Doesn't that hurt?" This was from Sammy.

Tommy grinned. "Try pulling out some of your own hair," said he. "This sort of blanket keeps the babies warm as well as hidden," he continued. "As far as I have been able to find out their mother keeps away from them during the daytime. She goes to them after dark to feed them. I suppose that during the day they just sleep. Anyway they keep still and that is the important thing. If they moved much they would be likely to uncover themselves and a Hawk might see them."

"What happens when they are big enough to begin to run about?" Sammy asked.

"They leave the nest and scatter. They don't come back to it. It is each for himself then. I have an idea that their mother keeps track of them for a while and perhaps feeds them some, but I don't know this.'

"Where do you suppose they are now?" Sue asked, looking about as if she expected to see them in the grass.

"In the Old Briar-patch by this time. Come on over there and perhaps we can find some of them," said Tommy, and led the way.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

IMAGINATION.

Wise Bobby Burns, whom millions quote,
Once saw a louse upon a bonnet
And seeing went away and wrote
A deathless poem upon it.

Another time a field mouse fled
A furrow that his plough was turning
And started in the poet's head
A poem schooboys still are learning.

He saw a wounded hare limp by
To die by mate and young untended,
And wrote a verse that will not die
Before his fit of fury ended.

How much there is we fail to see!
How much escapes the reaper's gleaning!
Trifles to us might splendors be
If we could only grasp their meaning.

CALLING ALL DOGS!

By Albert Payson Terhune

Your Very Old Dog

Here at Sunnybank, is an incredibly old collie. "Sunnybank Sandstorm." ("Sandy," to you, as to all his thousand friends.) He may be dead before you read this. In his prime, Sandy was a ribbon-winner at dogshow and a gallant and wise guardian of our home. He earned his keep in a dozen different ways. Since the death of his sire, our peerless Sunnybank Gray Dawn, he has been king of our dogs.

The assaults of old age began to wreak their ravages on him, nearly three years ago. The once-powerful body began to be blurred with fat. The once-keen eyes waxed uncertain and dim. Arthritis made his forelegs lame. Recently, he has lost flesh, and is thin. Not one of you would pay me a nickel for him. And not one of you could buy him for a thousand dollars.

He continues to have a beautifully happy life and to enjoy everything. We make his last days as perfect as we can. He is known, now, to all of us at Sunnybank as "The Old Gentleman"; and he is treated as such.

Is that sentimental? Yes. But he has earned his right to it. Give the same treatment to your own very old dog. After he is dead, there will be plenty of time to get a younger and livelier canine chum.

TRENTON REPUBLICAN-LEADER:
The main trouble with the "trade at home" preachment is that too many people think it is intended for the other fellow and that they themselves are exempt. BLOOMINGTON ADVOCATE-TRIBUNE:

A New York correspondent reports: "The C. C. C. has more uses than are dreamt of in Mr. Roosevelt's philosophy. One camp which happens to be located near a fashionable residential colony has been going in for night work. The neighborhood has a surplus of debutantes, but a deficit in escorts. This embarrassing situation was solved by a phone call to the camp commander. He supplied a batch of boys who passed all deportment tests with flying colors. The C. C. TECUMSEH CHIEFTAIN:
Local grain buyers report wheat going up 11 cents during the past week. This is due to the fact that miller's supplies are getting low, and there is a strong demand for milling wheat. The price Thursday was 68 cents at Tecumseh. Elevators are being cleaned up and put in condition for the anticipated good crop of wheat soon ready for harvest. But little old corn is coming in, and the corn bins will probably be filled with wheat when marketing gets under full swing.

FREMONT TRIBUNE:
A bill is before congress to build a dam in the river in Yellowstone park. A committee of the National Life Conservation society of New York is actively opposing the project. Their contention is that the park should be reserved "for the one purpose for which it was dedicated, the enjoyment and the education of the people of the United States." This opposition is right as no dam should be built in the Yellowstone park. It should be maintained in its natural condition.

Thieves Steal Light Plant From District School Near Agnew

The county sheriff's office has offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of thieves who broke into the school of District No. 73, four miles west of Agnew, and stole most of the light plant.

According to Deputy Sheriff Hasson, John Martin, director of the school board, has also offered a suitable reward.

The thieves, who broke into the school by prying a window open, took the gas light generators and burners and mantles, cutting the line to the gas tank. The theft took place sometime between June 6 and June 13.

Cantor Is Going To England To Raise Funds For Refugees

HOLLYWOOD, June 15—(AP)—Eddie Cantor will spend his vacation in England raising funds to transport Jewish children from Germany, Austria and Poland to Palestine.

The comedian said today he is leaving July 6 for London, where he will speak in the interest of the youth aliyah.

Cantor said he set his quota at 500 children.

"I've helped 227 get out of Germany and Poland," he said, "and I'm going to raise enough money to go over my quota on this trip. But I won't stop there. I'll keep right on."

He said a number of his Hollywood friends, including Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Al Jolson, Ted Lewis and Sophie Tucker, were helping him in his campaign.

Cantor said children taken to Palestine become self-supporting after two years, but that it was necessary to raise $360 for each child for transportation and care for the first two years.

PATRIOTIC GROUPS OBSERVE FLAG DAY

D. U. V. And W. R. C. Conduct Exercises; History And Meaning Of Flag Told

Flag day was observed here Tuesday by Sarah D. Gillespie tent No. 7, D. U. V., and Farragut and Appomattox W. R. C., all affiliated with the G. A. R. The D. U. V. exercises were held at Odd Fellows hall, and the W. R. C. groups met at the Y. M. C. A.

The D. U. V. exercises were a part of the annual memorial program. Arranged by Rose Gilmore, who read a poem in tribute to the colors and gave a demonstration of flag etiquet, Mrs. W. A. Way presided.

Miss Mary Sheehan displayed a flag containing only 20 stars, the emblem of the nation when there were only 20 states. One of two which she has, it came to the family from her father who was a naval officer during the Civil war.

History Related.

The history of the flag was related by Laura Smith, and R. G. Douglas told of its origin, and explained the part veterans of the Civil war played in preserving the Union.

For the memorial exercises the officers of the organization formed a cross and sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

At the W. R. C. observance ten flags were represented, and Scoutmaster Thompson of troop No. 31, expressed appreciation of the troop for a flag that had been given the boys earlier. The McNearny quartet gave a group of numbers, Doris Smith sang, and Freddie Langenheim tap-danced. Louis Troupe gave a musical reading, "Your Flag and My Flag." Mrs. Della Craig spoke.

PILOT SAVES THREE PLANE PASSENGERS

ST. LOUIS, June 15—(AP)—Because Orville E. Scott has sharp eyes and a keen sense of smell four persons are alive today.

Scott, a veteran airplane pilot, was taking three passengers—all on their first flight—for a brief trip yesterday. While over a suburb he noticed a thin trickle of smoke at his feet.

From the exhaust?

His nose said no. Smiling at the unsuspecting passengers, Scott carefully banked his plane and headed back to the field.

Quietly the ship landed, the passengers alighted. They thanked the pilot for an enjoyable trip. Then two 25-gallon gasoline tanks exploded, destroying the plane.

WHITE BLACKBOARDS IN N.Y. HIGH SCHOOL

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Educators are trying out "white blackboards" in a move to dispel classroom gloom.

In the belief slate blackboards absorb too much light and strain children's eyes, the board of education will install white writing boards, made of coated glass, in one high school next fall as an experiment.

The bad news to mothers is—students will use black instead of white chalk.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By Prof. J. D. Flint

After paying what he considered an exorbitant tax on a piece of property in the country, Mr. I. M. Tuff, a publisher, spent long hours perpetrating a hoax on the particular tax investigator who had caused him all the trouble and expense. Mr. Tuff said to a friend, "Bill, that property of mine is square-shaped, six hundred feet on a side. I'm going to fence a triangle three-hundred feet on a side and increase the distance around it by at least three hundred feet each month for two years and each month I'm going to tell that investigator about it and make him go out there and look it over." "But," said bill, "if you lie to him about increasing it he'll make it hard for you." "I won't be lying to him," said Mr. Tuff, "I can do it without running over the borders of my property." How could he?

BINDERUP PETITION LACKS SIGNATURES

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—A petition seeking to force house consideration at this session of a monetary bill by Rep. C. G. Binderup (D) of Minden, Neb., rested on the speaker's desk today, bearing only 46 of the 218 signatures required.

Rep. Transue (D-Mich), placed the petition there yesterday. The measure, which Binderup explains would put additional money into circulation, change the monetary system, provide for control by a monetary authority and stabilize commodity prices at the 1926 level, is held by the banking and currency committee.

Back Broken In Haying Accident

ARCADIA, Neb., June 15—(AP)—Two men suffered serious injuries in two different haying accidents.

Everett White, 28, son of John White, received a broken back while helping his father stack alfalfa. A gust of wind blew a lift of hay onto him, knocking him from the top of a stack. Dr. Joe W. Baird said White's legs were paralyzed.

Arthur Easterbrook, helping Fred Murray cut alfalfa, suffered a sprained back and severe contusions about his legs when his tractor plunged into a ditch, throwing him from the machine.

DODGERS TURN ON NITE LIGHTS

Brooklyn Club Installs Mazdas For Nocturnal Ball Games.

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE.

NEW YORK, June 15—(INS) — Through the clicking turnstiles of Ebbets Field tonight will storm hordes of baseball luminaries, civic leaders and thousands of howling fans eager to witness the first major league night baseball game seen in the metropolitan area.

Champion Sprinter Present.

Larry S. MacPhail, the Brooklyn club's vice-president and baseball's No. 1 showman, is presenting the Doddering Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds, pioneers in the mazda game, in the first of six nocturnal contests to be held during the summer.

JESSE OWENS.

All National league clubs, except the New York Giants, will perform under the Ebbets Field arc lights this season.

Adding to the fanfare of the inauguration of the Dodgers' $110,000 lighting plant, will be an exhibition of sprinting, broad jumping and hurdling by Jesse Owens, negro Olympic champion and former Ohio State university sensation.

The Reds-Dodgers game yesterday was postponed when the train bearing the Brooklynites homeward from their western invasion broke down, delaying their arrival.

Giants Still Winning.

The Giants maintained their two-game lead over the Chicago Cubs by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 3. Hal Schumacher won his sixth game.

The Cubs, with Tex Carleton winning his seventh game by holding the Bees to seven hits, turned back Boston, 5 to 2. Lou Fette, the unfortunate sophomore, suffered his eighth loss.

In Philadelphia, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies, 4 to 3.

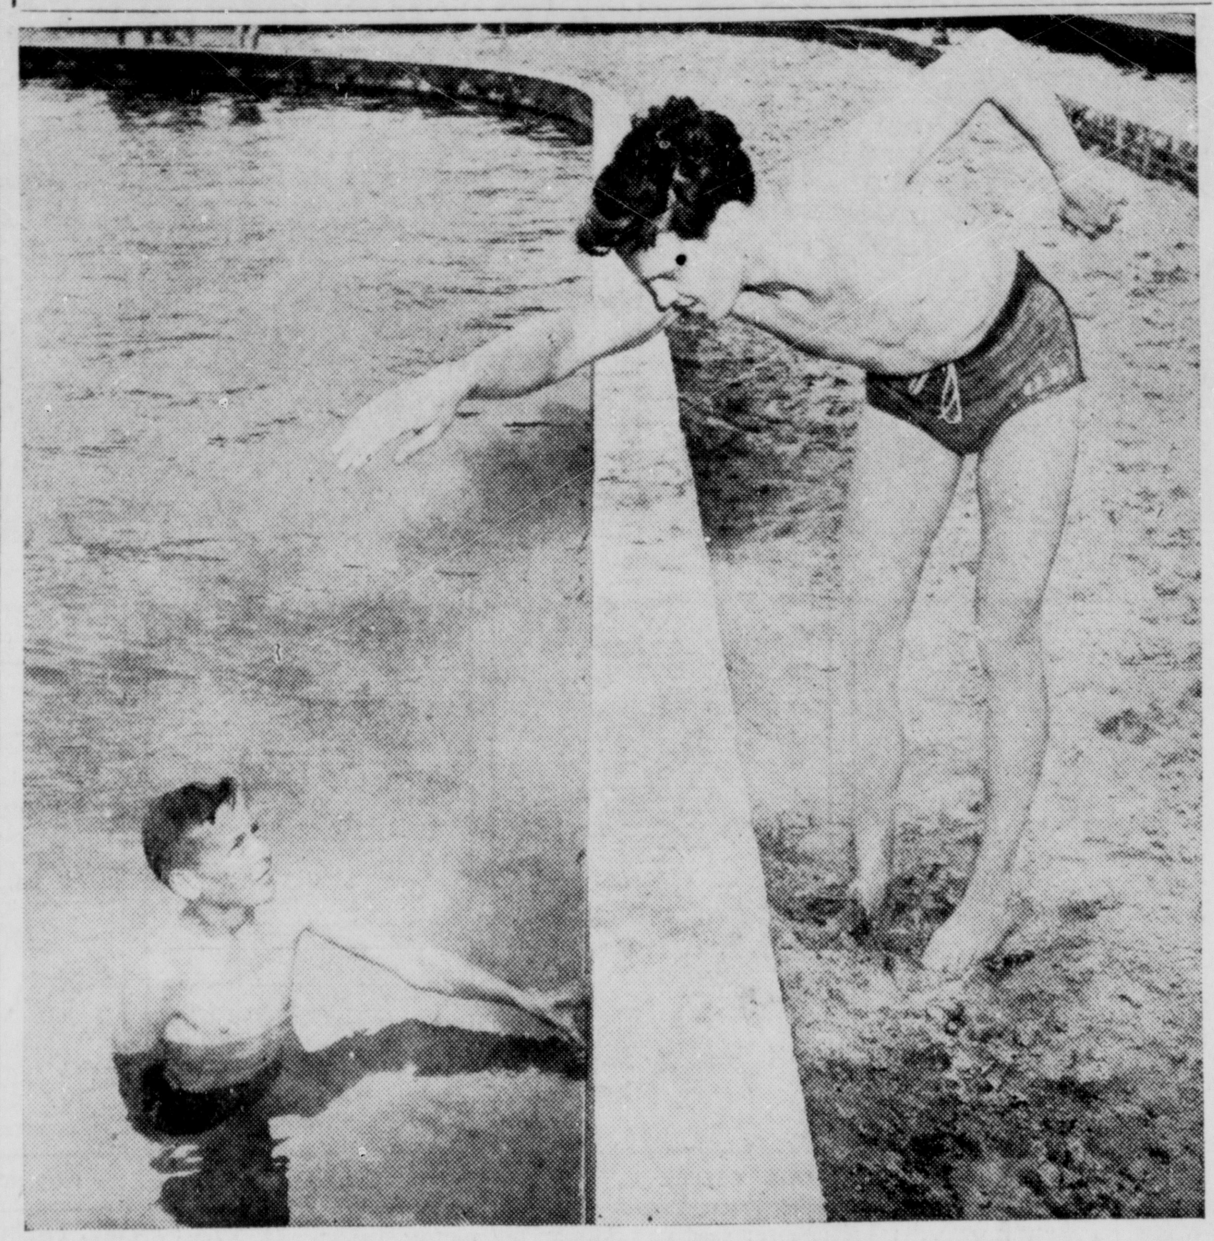

Yanks Gain On Indians.

The New York Yankees further tightened the American league race by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 4, while the Cleveland Indians were losing to the Washington Senators, 7 to 6. The Tribe, after losing five straight, are now only a half a game ahead of the New Yorkers.

Vernon Kennedy lost his second straight — both losses have been to Philadelphia—as the Athletics trounced the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 2. Hank Greenberg hit homer No. 14.

In St. Louis, the Boston Red Sox knocked out a 5 to 3 decision over the Browns.

YOUTH GETS FIRST LESSON AT SWIMMING.

Burton Amgwert, himself a product of the Lincoln Newspapers' "learn-to-swim week" of 1931, is shown demonstrating his favorite stroke to Bernard Japs, a beginning swimmer. Amgwert now is life-guarding at the Capital Beach pool.

Burt is national Y. M. C. A. 220-yard champ in a short course pool and was runner-up in the 50 and 100-yard free style events in the national swim. He also claims five midwest A. A. U. records and five city standards along with all state "Y" free style records.

Registrations for the 1938 learn to swim week will be accepted June 20 to 25 at The Star or Journal. The week itself is June 27 to July 2.

Texans Lower Swim Records

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 15—(AP)—Jane Dillard continued her attack on United States swimming records here last night.

In an exhibition, the high school girl swam the 100-yard breast stroke in 1 minute, 17.8 seconds. The American record, held by Katherine Rawls, is 1 minute, 23.4 seconds.

Mike Sojka, University of Texas breast-stroker, bettered the American men's record with 1 minute, 7.2 seconds in the exhibition. The record is 1 minute, 8.4 seconds, set by Kenneth Degenan.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—

Spelling Scissors...

Strange as it seems, there are 58,365,440 different ways of spelling the word "scissors"—yet only one of them is correct!

Lexicographers, always on the alert to startle the American public with such observations, figured out the amazing number of combinations in this manner:

There are six elementary sounds in the word, they point out, the first of which can be indicated by 17 combinations. The second can be indicated by 36, the third by 17, the fourth by 33, the fifth by 10 and the sixth by 17.

By merely multiplying together the number of possible combinations, they obtained the number 58,365,440. However, nobody has yet been reported to have written all the combinations.

Other words and names are almost equally versatile; the name of the great bard, Shakespeare, can be spelled some 4,000 different ways. In fact, he is known to have changed the spelling of his own name 30 times.

Traitor to Texas...

A renegade American, John Davis Bradburn, launched himself on a nefarious career in the 1820's when, with a smuggled saw, he filed his way out of a Tennessee jail and headed for the Mexican border.

Bradburn joined the revolution going on there at the time and gained some reputation as a patriot, as well as the favor of Iturbide, under whom he fought.

Eventually he gained a high commission in Mexico's army and was placed in charge at Anahuac in 1832. There he exerted a tyrannical hand of authority, although Anahuac contained an American colony.

Two of the Americans residing there—Patrick Jack and William Travis—objected to Bradburn's methods and were quickly jailed. A committee of Americans organized to obtain Jack and Travis' release, and as a consequence a Mexican sentry was killed—first bloodshed in Texas' bid for freedom. An open skirmish broke out, and Mexican Colonel Piedras took command, heard charges against Bradburn and, strange as it seems, ordered his arrest! The punishment meted to him is unknown.

Tomorrow: Heavenly traffic jam.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Speculators here are asking—and getting—$100 per copy for Schmeling-Louis ringsides originally priced at $30...You can't buy ducats inside the thirtieth row at any of the "legitimate" box offices...Biggest buyer to date is Publisher Annenberg of the Philadelphia Inquirer...He went for $12,000 worth, which indicates he intends to throw a real party...Interest is at high pitch and the bout can't miss a million...At Pompton Lakes Sunday, an irate fan unsheathed a razor to tickle the legs of a photographer who was blocking his view...The photog moved away from there right pert like.

GENE TUNNEY is the fellow who talked Schemling into doing a little road work for Louis...In his previous bouts here, Max never went on the road...He'd take a short walk with Trainer Max Machon after dinner and let it go at that...Now he's really trotting...A pool appeared on Broadway today offering 5 to 1 against Louis scoring a knockout in the first three rounds; 4 to 1 against the champion doing it in the next six; 5 to 1 against his ending it in the tenth, eleventh or twelfth, and 6 to 1 against his stopping the challenger in the last three heats...Odds against Schmeling stopping Joe are 8 to 1 for the first three; 6 to 1 in the fourth, fifth and sixth and 5 to 1 that he doesn't end it in the next six...It's 6 to 1 that Max doesn't finish Joe in the last three.

PITTSBURGH fans are yowling so loud they may have to remove the band from the bankroll out there after all...The reason Max Baer is laughing off offers to fight Bob Pastor on the coast is that he is the No. 1 man to fight the Louis-Schmeling winner—and who blames him?...Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan's initial wrestling performance out west drew the horse laugh from most of the critics, particularly from Dr. Art Cohn, sports editor of the Oakland Tribune...Rice may be the team to beat for national championship honors this year and don't forget we told you so in June.

ODDS are the team of Max Schmeling and Joe Jacobs will break up after next Wednesday's fight...Here is some real no-hit pitching for you...Stan Berquam, tossing 'em up for a team in the Moorhead, Minn., softball league, fanned every one of the 27 Venice Garden batters the other day and won, 8-0...It's a softball league, sure, but such a grand performance rates a plug in this or any other collum...Louisiana State will have a pair of dark horses in Henry Costello and Bert McDowell in the national intercollegiate golf tournament at Louisville late this month.

THE Dodgers go under the lights tonight...Is it true that next season will be "Little Sleepy" Glenn's last as coach of the West Virginia Mountaineers?...Any good high school football coach who will talk business for around $3,200 should communicate with this department...But be sure you're good...Trading season ends tomorrow: Yanks want a pitcher; Indians need an outfielder; Giants can use a right-hand hitting outfielder; Dodgers need pitching; Cards want a shortstop and the Bees want Buddy Hassett ...On Your marks!...Go!

Can Champion Joe Forget That "Kayo"?

Writer Ruminates On Ability of Louis To Eradicate Unpleasant Memories.

(Editor's note: Following is the third of five articles on the principals in the June 22 heavyweight championship fight at Yankee Stadium, New York, giving intimate training camp details and revealing what Champion Joe Louis, challenger Max Schmeling and leading boxing figures think of their chances.)

By LAWTON CARVER.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 15—(INS)—Down here there is an ominous air about everything. They are preparing the brown killer for the kill, and they are quite certain the slaughter will be complete and conclusive, once the gong rings on Wednesday night of next week, sending Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis out against Max Schmeling.

Can Louis Forget?

To Louis, the 24-year-old former day laborer who now holds the so-called most prized bauble of fistiana, it's to be just another fight—to hear him tell it. Personally, I still think he remembers what happened two years ago when he met Schmeling, and wound up battered to his knees from which position he accepted a knockout defeat.

He looks a lot better now than he did then. They've tried to teach him to elude a right hand punch and they have instilled into him the fact that Schmeling is no set-up. They say that's the reason Louis lost before—because he took Schmeling too lightly.

All I know is that people familiar with such things insist that Louis still is punch shy. He blinks and grimaces when he sees a glove headed toward his face and can't get away from a right hand too well, they maintain.

Does It Make Sense?

But even some of those who admit Louis is something less than a super-man insist he will knock Schmeling out. They point to the fact that the dusky champion punches with both hands, is young and a good boxer.

The fight, therefore, doesn't make a great deal of sense, considered from a standpoint of the predictions. Somehow, those who are qualified to talk about it refuse to believe that Louis actually was knocked out on the so-called "legit" before. They prefer to believe it was the result of a lucky punch or that he was over-confident and therefore out of shape.

One thing is certain. He won't be over-confident this time, nor without a keen fighting edge. He learned his lesson before, and if Schmeling repeats his knockout it will be because he is the better fighter. Louis is working like he never did before and is quite confident, too.

Fans Flock to Camp.

His camp is somewhat different from Schmeling's. The German is far away in the Adirondacks foothills at Speculator, N. Y., with only the chipmunks and the crickets for company, except when he is working out. Then the people flock in there to see him in action.

Down here, Louis is close to the metropolitan area and somehow you feel you are just off Times Square while he chugs through his workouts. And there are many people around, too, all of whom came to see what the brown bomber looks like—working hard when he works and resting hard when he rests.

Louis impresses one with his tigerish grace. As Jim Braddock put it:

"Louis moves around like a cat."

He is a very tough customer, this young negro, who may yet prove to be the super-man everybody said he was before he first met Schmeling.

Tunney Not Saying.

Since that 1936 night when he was belted out by Schmeling he has had two years in which to correct any mistakes he made. He has one of the best trainers in the business in razor-scarred old Jack Blackburn, who, as a welterweight, wasn't exactly against taking on all comers, including heavies, in his day. Louis, moreover, has a pair of shrewd managers in Julian Black and John Roxborough.

Still, he was knocked out by Schmeling before and once that gong rings he is out there by himself and I'm wondering what he is going to be thinking about.

Gene Tunney, who watched Louis work yesterday, is among those refusing to pick him, although you can detect that the former champion seems to like Louis.

Still, he's not picking him—and that may be important.

NEW CHAMP IS SETTING PACE

Guldahl Low In Western Open With First Round Score of 71.

By ROBERT HEREFORD.

ST. LOUIS, June 15—(INS)—Ralph Guldahl, golfdom's man of the hour, today paced 100 perspiring pros and amateurs into the second 18-hole round of play for the western open title here. The two-time national open champion, who has not scored above a five in his last 90 holes of championship play, swept into the lead when he pounded out a par 71 in yesterday's opening round.

Plays Like Machine.

Ralph's machine-like game was too much even for Sam Snead, Tony Penna, Paul Runyan, Ray Mangrum and Floyd Farley, who worked their way into a five-way tie at 72 before the national open title-holder stepped off the eighteenth green at Westwood Country club toward evening, his face wreathed in an implacable smile and his card showing one stroke less than theirs.

Ralph Guldahl

Guldahl went out in 37 and came back in 34 to place the meet under control at the quarter.

He played with Don Schumacher of Dallas and Lighthorse Harry Cooper, the rhythm man, whose best efforts yielded him a 74 in common with half a dozen other stars of the fairways.

Five Bunched at 72.

Between the latter contingent and the five pros bunched at 72 were Leland Gibson and Jimmy Hines, with 73s. The remainder of the field was well spaced behind.

Horton Smith of Chicago, putting marvel, was bracketed with Bert Montressor of Taylorville, Ill., at 75. Pegged at 76 were Lawson Little, Leonard Dodson and Jimmy Thomson.

Tommy Armour and Frank Walsh took 78s. The wind-blown course with its abundant traps and wooded stretches, held Johnny Bulla to an 83 for the first 18 holes.

Swings Like Robot.

Guldahl swung like a robot without nerves to spatter his card with threes, fours and fives and escape the ubiquitous sixes which occasionally dogged most of his competitors. He was never in serious trouble, but was forced to extend himself several times to avert disaster.

The final 36 holes of the tournament are set for tomorrow.

San Romani Seeks New Mile Record

PRINCETON, N. J., June 15—(INS)—Archie San Romani, who proposes to run a 4:03 world record mile in the fifth annual Princeton invitation track meet Saturday, will also compete in the meet's three-quarter mile event, officials revealed today. This will pit him against his arch rival, Glenn Cunningham, in two tests, for Glenn, too, is doubling up.

The number of athletes training on the scene in Palmer stadium yesterday reached 18, with the arrival of Wayne and Blaine Rideout of North Texas State, entered in the three-quarters and mile; Harold Manning of Wichita, two-mile; Raymond Sears, Butler, two-mile; Ralph Ross, Army, pole vault; Ray Mahannah, Drake, three-quarters; Charles Beetham, Ohio State, half-mile; Douglas Raymond, Boston U., quarter-mile, and Wesley Wallace, Fordham, quarter-mile.

PRINCE ALBERT

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

Ever Handy Phone.

THE ink scarcely was cold on yesterday's issue of The Star—and the phone on my desk began to jingle. One of my most accommodating critics was at the other end of the line.

"Changed your tune about Joe Louis, haven't you," the voice exclaimed gleefully. "After the Louis-Braddock fight at Chicago last summer you came back to pour it out for Louis.

"I remember reading your column in which you spread it on extra thick, saying in effect that Joe was a great champion and predicting that Schmeling would have no chance against the man that beat Braddock.

"Now I see that you've switched over into the Schmeling camp. Why not stay hitched, just for a change, and stick to your convictions?"

With which, before I could think up a plausible alibi, the phone went bang. So there I was, chattering at a dead transmitter.

The heck of it all is that my gleeful critic was about nine-tenths right, as it's in the record—meaning the printed lines in my column of a year ago late this month—that I authored pretty much of everything my razzer said I published, wherefore I fear it's up to me to explain my switch.

Under a Spell.

AS I see it now, I reckon I was under something of a spell—the J. Louis spell—when I headed for home last summer after witnessing Braddock's Waterloo at the hands of a magnificent animal with fists encased in brown boxing gloves.

And so I wrote at the time—and willingly repeat now—that Joe Louis, in his knockout of the Jerseyman, looked the part every inch of the peerless fighting man.

But that was June of a year ago, since which time considerable water has run under the bridge. As for instance, the dark man has engaged in two or three ring encounters, in none of which did he bear resemblance to the polished fighter and invincible champion. He was easily hit with a right to the noggin and, according to accepted press reports, actually was set back on his heels, visibly flustered.

Inasmuch as Max Schmeling's pet weapon is his right—a blow which carried dynamite when it landed on the Louis jaw two years ago—the conviction has gripped me the champion's defense has improved so little that the German socker inevitably will find his mark in the brawl a week hence at Yankee stadium.

Jersey Jim Doomed.

BUT that phase of my explanation doesn't complete the job. It is today clearer than ever that Braddock waged the sort of battle that made him to order for his negro foe.

The Jerseyman, probably realizing he could win in no other way, carried the fight to Louis. The latter, being the stiffer, speedier glove-whirler, beat his man down by inches and eventually swished a terrific right to the Braddock chin for the pay-off punch.

Braddock was criticised at the time for wading into Louis, but it is apparent now that in assuming the aggressive he was making the most of his only chance to win.

Jersey Jim is no youngster in the ring racket and he tossed caution to the four winds, hoping to locate the button with one telling sock.

Failing in that, his wearied legs began to buckle after a few rounds of heavy use. In short, Braddock had shot his bolt and the subsequent knockout landed by Louis provided the proof that Jersey Jim was a doomed man from the moment he clambered through the ropes.

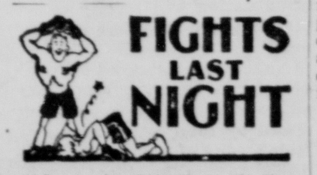

That Deadly Right.

SCHMELING, too, has factored more than a little in my switch of opinion concerning the probable outcome of next Wednesday's rookus.

The black uhlan seemingly slumped in his bout of last winter with Ben Foord, but subsequent developments indicated that he injured his best weapon, that deadly right, in one of the early rounds, wherefore he was content to qualify for the decision while depending solely on his left maulie.

A few months later, however, Schmeling swarmed all over Steve Dudas by dint of an impressive ring performance. The two bouts, plus several weeks devoted to careful conditioning at Speculator, apparently have added that razor-edged sharpness to the German fighter's preparations.

Confidently, not boastfully, Schmeling has proclaimed he will repeat his feat of two years ago, when his knockout of Louis startled the pugilistic world. As for myself, I prefer to string along with Herr Max. I have the feeling that he will outsmart the hard-hitting but dull-thinking champion and again ring the bell with a soporific right.

"TRANS" NOW HAS THAT EXTRA TOUCH OF "CLASS"

Goodman's Presence, Also Ward's, Hailed As Boost For Links Tourney In Lincoln.

By JOHNNY HOWELL.

THE Trans-Mississippi golf tournament assumed national importance today as a result of the announcement in Tuesday evening's issue of The Star that Johnny Goodman, Omaha, and Bud Ward, Olympia, Wash., who returned Tuesday from their invasion of England with the U. S. Walker cup team, had declared intention of joining the fast growing list of entries for the tournament on the Lincoln Country club course, June 21 to 26.

Golf of Super Brand.

The two internationally famous amateur golfers will bring a brand of golf to the local course that few have had an opportunity to inspect. Ward tore the famous St. Andrews course in England apart in one of his Walker cup rounds, shooting a brilliant 67, as he downed Frank Pennink, two-times English champion, 12 to 11, in one of the soundest lickings ever registered in the historic cup matches.

JOHNNY GOODMAN

Goodman gained his prestige in the golfing world by winning the national open several years ago and by conquering one of golf's toughest fields in the national amateur in 1937. Capital City fans will see golf at its best when these two stars blast their way around the course in tournament competition.

Newkirk Busy Man.

Ed Newkirk, Country club pro, scarcely can find time to sit down as he gives the course the final check-up for the "Trans." The carload of regular tournament coarse sand that has been ordered for several days arrived Tuesday and work began immediately to dump it in the traps.

Another problem that is confronting the tourney committee involves the parking places needed for the spectators' cars. The only autos that will be admitted to the regular drive are those of the contestants, officials and working press. A parking lot has been arranged on the vacant lots on South Twenty-seventh street, across from the No. 3 fairway, to handle the remainder of the traffic. Tournament on-lookers can then come around in back of the No. 3 tee and the No. 2 green and continue on to the clubhouse without interfering with the play of the contestants.

Scoreboard Installed.

A big scoreboard will be placed near the practice green for the benefit of the spectators, press and players. The scores will be posted here so that anyone seeking information about the scores of the play may get it from the board. This will relieve the congestion that might come without a well-organized plan.

Tuesday evening, following the inaugural day's play, a banquet in compliment to the contestants and officials of the tournament will be served at the club. At this time the drawings and auctioning of the players will take place. Tickets for the fans are available at the present time for both the gallery and the banquet.

Maxie Tunes Up His Kayo Punch

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 15—(INS)—The punch with which Max Schmeling once knocked out Joe Lonis is the blow he is attempting to perfect.

This was evident today as his sparring mates were on the receiving end of sharp rights. That's the hand Max is confident will regain for him the heavyweight crown now resting on Louis' brow.

Two of Max's sparmates were rocked with rights in yesterday's workout.

NATION'S BEST IN TRACK MEET

Cream of Cindermen On Marks This Week-end At Minnesota U.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 15—(AP)—It begins to look as though the cameras will be called into use to decide the winners of some of the track events in the national collegiate meet here Friday and Saturday.

Forty-two In Century.

In the 100-yard dash department, there are 42 entrants whose best previous times for the event vary only half a second between fastest and slowest. Seven of them have covered the distance in 9.5, just one-tenth of a second slower than the world's record, and nine others have done 9.6.

The 9.5 marks have been hung up, at one time or another, by Adrian Talley of Southern California, which is defending the team championship; Fred Wolcott of Rice Institute; Mozelle Ellerbe of Tuskegee, Mack Robinson of Oregon, Jack Emigh of the University of Montana, Tom Nelson of Fresno State and Marty Glockman of Syracuse.

Two Dozen In 220.

The situation in the 220-yard dash is similar, with only a second between the best times of the first and last of 24 sprinters.

In the quarter-mile, there are an even half-dozen entries who have covered the distance in 47 seconds in previous meets.

Competition will be in 14 events, with preliminaries Friday and the finals the next day. The field will include 336 individual entries from 86 colleges and universities.

Player Swapping Deadline Is Near

NEW YORK, June 15—(INS)—With the major league dead line arriving at midnight, there were rumors of last-minute deals affecting two of the three local clubs, the Yankees and Giants.

Confronted with difficulties in attempting to lure Pitcher Buck Newsom away from the St. Louis Browns, the Yankees were said to be seeking a deal with Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers for Pitcher Elden Auker.

The Giants, who got second-baseman Alex Kampouris from the Cincinnati Reds recently for Wally Berger, are angling for a righthanded batting outfielder for pinch-hitting purposes. Manager Bill Terry has been mentioned as being interested in Frenchy Bordagaray of the St. Louis Cardinals.

SURGEONS OPERATE ON DOHRMANN KNEE

Elmer Dohrmann, winner of 11 varsity letters in Nebraska U. athletics, is recovering from a knee operation at the Lincoln General hospital. The operation, made necessary by a football injury, was performed on his left knee. The damaged cartilage was removed and the tendons shortened to give them added strength. He will be dismissed from the hospital in a few days.

Greenwood Club Bids For Game On July 4

GREENWOOD, Neb., June 15—Greenwood's town baseball team, undefeated in the Twin Valleys league, is in the market for a game away from home July 4. Any manager interested should contact Heinie Brehm at Greenwood.

Amateur GOLF

The ladies' invitational golf tournament held sway Tuesday at the Lincoln Country club as 40 of the women competed for the prizes. Mrs. Botsford won the 18-hole fewest-putts event, taking only 30 putts on her circuit trip. Mrs. Westphal required 31 putts in this event to gain second honors.

The fewest putts for the nine-hole event was won by Mrs. Kinsey with her total of 15. Mrs. Cline came in with 18 putts to place second in this event.

The regular ladies' day at the East Hills club was postponed until Friday of this week.

Broadview had a turnout of 20 as the women golfers vied for honors in the best-ball twosome events. The best twosome in the nine-hole class was Mrs. Guy Hunt and Mrs. A. E. Fenton. Mrs. O. J. Crabtree and Mrs. Leo Gartner proved to be the best combination in the 18-hole field.

International League.

Jersey City, 4; Buffalo, 2.
Rochester, 4; Baltimore, 0.
Newark, 5; Toronto, 2.
Montreal, 7; Syracuse, 1.

The sulky which Jay-Eye-See pulled to a world's record at Goshen in 1884 still is in use.

"TRANS-MISS" GOLF TROPHIES.

Leaders who top the field in the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament, on the slate for next week on the Lincoln Country club course, will have their reward in the form of handsome silver cups. Miss Marian Fowler, Lincoln miss, evidently thinks the tropies have that "nifty" appearance. She was looking them over admiringly when the cameraman snapped the above picture.

MIDDLE KING HARD PRESSED

Freddie Steele Winner Over Solly Krieger In 10 Rounds.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 15—(INS)—Promoter Nate Druxman today opened negotiations for a title match between Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele, Tacoma, Wash., and Al Hostak, sensational Georgetown, Wash., Slav, following Steele's unimpressive decision last night over Solly Krieger, New York City, in a 10-round non-title affair.

Wins Close Decision.

While earning the decision in the close bout over Krieger, Steele definitely was far out of trim. It was his first match in four months and he tired badly toward the finish.

FREDDIE STEELE.

Steele, was weighed in at 164 pounds, took the first, third, seventh and ninth rounds, while Krieger, at 161¾ pounds, took the second, sixth and eighth. The others were even.

The champion closed Krieger's left eye in the third and scored best with solid left jabs, but often became extremely wild, missing four or five blows each round by nearly half a foot.

Both fighters ended the Donnybrook with mincemeat faces. Krieger got a solid sock to Steele's nose in the fifth which spattered carmine profusely and a wild right in the final round, just as the gong ended the match, nearly floored the champ.

Glove Champ Keen To Mix With Maxie If German Willing to Meet Him Half Way.

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—If you can take sleepy-eyed Joe Louis at his word—and Joe never was a fellow to talk just to hear his head rattle—the fight at Yankee Stadium a week from tonight may be a brannigan such as hasn't been seen since Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo used everything except poison gas on each other back in the colossal twenties.

That Single Doubt.

The one little doubt about the impending duello has been the possibility that Louis would be gun-shy and would try to play it cute, staying back of his left jab for 15 tedious rounds while Max Schmeling swore in German and waited in vain for a crack at the pliant Louis jaw.

That could be a terrible thing to watch, worse than the Louis-Tommy Farr affair, where the champion pursued the hunt-and-peck method to a successful conclusion.

Happily now, all such doubts of the approaching nineteenth "battle of the century" have been erased. It seems safe to pay $30 for a ringside chair, even though it might be out in the far territory roamed so long by the immortal Babe Ruth.

Hopes Max Mixes It.

Louis has expressed the hope that Schmeling will "stand up and fight." If Schmeling will, Joe promises to dispose of him in not more than four rounds. Boy Q boy! Stand back and quit getting in the way of the rescue squads.

A guy as filled with zeal and patriotic fervor as is Max Schmeling will fight nything. He is a crusader with an almost fanatical gleam in his eye. The one thing he has dreamed of for two years is another chance to hit Joe Louis. Joe need not worry about Max's willingness to whale it out.

Not that Schmeling will do anything foolish. If Louis means he wants the challenger to come out swinging, he will be disappointed. Max simply doesn't fight that way.

Max Willing Helper.

But if the negro wants to go after Schmeling and try to hang up that quick knockout, then he can be assured of action for his money. Max will meet him halfway, pumping that drastic right of his, and the results should be sudden and violent.

Unfortunately, it is a trifle difficult to believe Louis has worked himself into quite such a bloodthirsty frame of mind as his latest words would indicate. He can't have forgotten the belting that Schmeling gave him for 12 rounds at their other meeting. An experience as painful as that sears the memory.

LINKS ON ROAD FOR SIX DAYS

Clan Griffin Goes North; Rained Out Last Game With Islanders.

Lincoln's State league Links rained out of the finale of the Grand Island series Tuesday night, hit the road Wednesday. The Links play at Sioux City the next three evenings, moving to Sioux Falls Saturday for three games, then returning to Lincoln to open series with Norfolk and Beatrice Tuesday, June 21.

Twibell Departs.

Boss "Pug" Griffin of the Links announced that Rex Twibell, catcher, had drawn his release. Twibell, a Salina, Kas., boy, was first-string receiver on the club until Pete "Czar" Radulovich took over when Twibell suffered an injured ankle nearly three weeks ago. Twibell's foot bothered him when he caught one of the games in the Saturday doubleheader with Sioux Falls and Griffin handed him the pink slip.

The Sioux Falls at Sioux City game Tuesday also was rained out, while the Beatrice-Norfolk clash at Norfolk was tied at 4-4 when rain interfered in the fifth inning.

Farr Turns Back On British Home

LONDON, June 15—(AP)—Tommy Farr, British Heavyweight, left for the United States today.

Fined $3,750 by the British board of boxing control for his failure to go through with a contract to fight Max Schmeling here, Farr faced the loss of his British empire title for failing to pay.

Asked what would happen if the board took this action, Farr said:

"That would be too bad for them—and for me.

"My last two visits home cost me over £6,000 (around $30,000) and I have had continual worries.

"When a farmer finds soil that will not bear any crops, he goes somewhere else. That's all I am doing."

Farr said he probably would meet Jimmy Adamick first. Abe Feldman, American heavyweight, also sailed with Farr.

VERDICT TO SIMMS OVER COAST BOXER

LOS ANGELES, June 15—(INS)—Eddie Simms, big Cleveland heavyweight, pounded out a 10-round decision over Wild Bill Boyd, former navy champion, here last night.

Both fought on even terms, for the most part, but Simms' first punch in the opening round floored Boyd for a one-count. He repeated for a two-count in the second.

Stocks Turn Dull And Most Gains Are Reduced To Fractions

Traders Fail To Maintain Rally

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—The stock market got one foot on a rung of the recovery ladder today, but was too lackadaisical to climb.

The upward gesture carried several issues, notable raw material shares, up a point or so in the morning, and seemed to have been motivated largely by an inflationary flurry of gold buying in London.

The list turned dull after midday, and most gains were reduced to fractions. There was little disposition to sell, however, and this was attributed to a somewhat better tenor in mid-week business reports, indicating a little better inquiry in steel, better use of electric power, and a pickup in freight movement, as shown by the first railroads to report for last week.

An early upturn in copper shares was checked after an increase of 12,777 tons in world stocks of refined red metal was reported for May. Rail shares held barely steady, despite a bad slump in carrier bonds, which unsettled the bond market, as hopes faded for congressional liberalization of R. F. C. rail lending.

Commodity markets maintained a fair undertone, but in the main failed to extend their recent recovery. Wheat and corn at Chicago finished unchanged to fractions of a cent lower, cotton was a bit higher most of the day.

The turnover in the stock exchange amounted to only about 350,000 shares. Traders' attention was largely concentrated on the Washington legislative mill, grinding toward adjournment. Passage by the house of the measure to give the SEC increased control of over-the-counter dealings, but in a form necessitating further action by the senate, was of prime interest to the securities dealing fraternity.

Gold stocks were mostly higher at the close, as they were in London earlier. Farm implements were also firm at the finish. Dome and McIntyre finished nearly a point higher, but Homestake slipped back. Steels and motors were about unchanged. Issues up fair fractions to a point included International Harvester, Deere, Caterpillar, Standard of New Jeersey, Texas Corp., Goodyear, Sears, Montgomery Ward, American Smelting, International Nickel, DuPont, Eastman, Penney, Johns Manville and others. Anaconda and Bethlehem finished off a little. American Telephone lost an early gain, but North American finished higher.

The London inflation ideas were shown in active buying of gold there for hoarding, sending teh dollar, on the basis of the London gold price, to a slight discount. In later foreign exchange dealings, the dollar recovered somewhat, and Wall street began to pay more attention to the several official discouragements of devaluation talk lately.

Apart from the inflation gossip there weer other factors tending to improve sentiment toward shares of raw material producers. Oil statistics showed that big stocks of gasoline were being pulled down somewhat, declining 1,692,000 barrels last week. After several days of dullness, copper buying picked up considerably. The Worth street wholesale textile markets reported a little more inquiry.

Furthermore, since the recent rebound in the wheat market, despite the record-breaking crop estimate, the farm purchasing power situation has not been viewed as pessimistically. The recovery in livestock prices, and well maintained quotations for dairy products, have been noted.

Wall street dopesters watched closely the government's "pump priming" plans, expecting that vigorous efforts will be made in pouring funds into consumption channels as soon as congress puts its final stamp of approval on the program.

The most depressing aspect of the outlook, as many see it, was the railroad situation, but with large crops to be moved, and a pickup in building construction lately, some saw possible beginnings of better traffic volumes. But Col. Leonard P. Ayres, well known Cleveland economist, said in his business bulletin he saw little probability of a return of railroad prosperity this year. Analysts holding that "through the wringer" policy was the only way to put weak roads on their feet once more, were inclined to the view that failure of congress to liberalize R. F. C. lending might hasten such a movement.

Wheat Unchanged To Half-Cent Off

CHICAGO, Ill., June 15—(AP)—The most active grain trade witnessed in eight months, two or three times larger than the recent average, wheat rose 2⅜ cents today. Later, however, selling to realize profits more than wiped out this gain.

Big reductions in winter crop estimates were a feature. N. C. Murray, reported the present outlook as being for about 730 to 750 million bushels, against an estimate of 843 million the last week in May.

At the close Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ½ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, July 80⅛@¼, Sept., 81@81⅛c, corn unchanged to ¾ down, July 57⅛@¼c, Sept. 58⅜@½c, and oats ¼ cent off.

New quick jumps of 2⅜ cents a bushel today accompanied reports of 27 per cent Kansas crop losses on the basis of present known deterioration.

H. L. Robinson, of the Robinson Elevator Co., a recognized unofficial authority on Kansas crops, reported that he had reduced his May 19 estimate of the state's 1938 wheat production 27 per cent without reference to possible later developments. He said black rust was increasing rapidly, and that the Kansas harvest instead of being earlier than normal as at first thought, would be later. The northern half of the state, he added, was especially endangered.

Stimulated by such advices and by other disturbing reports not only from Kansas but additional states, active speculative buying hoisted the Chicago wheat market fast. Overnight rains likely to further delay harvesting and to increase black rust havoc added to the upward impetus of values. Profit taking, however, led at times to reactions of a cent or more.

Liverpool wheat quotations closed higher than due, up almost 4 cents a bushel overnight, and sterling also was up a point.

Rye, corn and oats reflected to some extent the wheat market bulge.

Provisions moved upward with grains.

Around 11 a. m., wheat was ½ to ⅞ cent higher compared with yesterday's finish, July 81c, September 81⅝c, and corn was unchanged to ⅜c lower, July 57½c, September 58½c.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Metal shares rang up sizable gains in the curb market today while the industrial section and a handful of oils lost under light offerings.

Aluminum Co. of America and Aluminum ltd were well in front near the final hour with gains of 2 to more than 3 points. Another favorite, Pittsburgh Plate Glass added about 3 while gainers of fractions to more than a point included American Gas & Electric, Lake Shore, Wright Hargreaves and Godchaux Sugar "A."

International Petroleum and Pantepec resisted the forward move for minor losses. About a point lower was Detroit Steel products.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Continued weakness in rail loans put the bond market under a handicap today.

Virtually all carrier issues were sensitive to Washington reports indicating little hope for railroad legislation in the remaining days of this session of congress.

Reflecting poor support rather than pressure of offerings, bonds of Pennsylvania, New York Central, Nickel Plate, Southern Pacific, M-K-T, Canada Southern Great Northern and Baltimore & Ohio fell back fractions to around 5 points.

The decline evoked relatively little buying interest and early in the final hour most rails were around the lows.

A few utility issues scored moderate gains under the lead of International Telephone 4½s and 5s and International Hydro-Electric 6s. Industrials were quiet in a narrow range.

U. S. Governments leaned a little to the downside, with most treasuries off 1-32d to 4-32ds.

Japanese obligations met some pressure and yielded a point or more.

Most issues ended lower. Chesapeake & Ohio 3½s of 1996 "D" lost 1¼ at 90¾, Santa Fe 4s of 1995 were ⅞ lower at 100½ and Louisiana & Arkansas 5s slipped 2½ at 65½. In the foreign list Carlsbad 8s jumped 9⅞ to 28⅞.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE.

LONDON, Eng., June 7$—(AP)—Chief interest in the stock market today centered in the gold mining and gilt-edged sections, although trading was still restricted. British funds eased fractionally on the belief that the new defense bonds would not be fully subscribed by the public. Gold mining shares advanced with the rise in the price for bullion, sales of which were the largest in more than a year. Industrial and trans-Atlantic securities held steady and copper shares moved upward. Foreign bonds were mixed.

PARIS, France, June 15—(AP)—Price movements in the bourse were irregular with the government bonds exceptionally heavy. Rentes finished with losses ranging from 25 to 40 centimes and Bank of France issue was off about 30 francs. Suez Canal dropped more than 300 francs and Royal Dutch was down 60 francs.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., June 15—(AP)—Cotton futures closed with net gains of 7 to 9 points, influenced by foreign and local buying as well as short covering. Firmness of overseas cotton market and higher commodity prices were bullish factors.

Wheat futures advanced sharply on firmer American and Australian offers, improved milling demand and strength at Chicago today. Final quotations were 2½d. to 3d. net higher.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, June 15—(AP)—Harvey S. Williams of Harris Upham & Co. says: "Should the increasingly unfavorable crop reports attract a wave of speculative buying, prices could advance very easily, in the absence of any volume of realizing sales, at least to a point where hedging pressure will become a factor in supplying the demand."

The Uhlmann Grain Co. makes these statements: "It is quite evident we are dealing with a wheat market which is very much influenced by fears. Even should there be losses of approximately 200 million bushels, we should still have a great deal more wheat than the season just ending; also, with a large carryover and apparently more wheat in sight in Europe than in the 1937-38 season."

According to Lamson Bros. & Co., the government June figures estimating the winter wheat crop at 50 million bushels less than the average private figures were a distinct surprise, as reductions were recorded in the soft winter wheat states and none to speak of in the hard winter wheat areas. This fact has led some in the trade to believe that but small allowance, if any, was made for frost and rust losses.

The Occident Elevator Co., reports that in Montana a general soaking rain is desirable for wheat and in most of North Dakota it is absolutely necessary unless there is to be rapid deterioration.

RAIL INCOME

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Eighty-nine Class 1 railroads had estimated operating revenues of $223,599,685 in May compared with $287,345,551 in May, 1937, and $376,782,025 in the same month of 1930.

The roads, the Association of American Railroads said today, represent 81.5 per cent of total operating revenues of all Class 1 carriers.

Operating revenues of the 89 in May were 22.2 per cent below May, 1937, and 40.7 below May, 1930.

Their freight revenues totaled $177,014,524 in May compared with $232,969,818 in the same month last year, and $290,106,326 in May, 1930.

Passenger revenues aggregated $25,886,614 in May this year compared with $28,677,008 in May, 1937, and $50,787,731 in May, 1930.

Bobby Loses Suit To Recover Taxes

ATLANTA, Ga., June 15—(INS)—Bobby Jones, former "emperor of golf," today failed for the second time in his efforts to recover from the federal government $53,000 which he alleges was paid in excess income' taxes.

The decision today was handed down by Federal Judge Bascom Deaver on a motion filed by Jones for retrial. Jones lost his first trial before Judge Deaver last February.

The suit grew out of a controversy regarding the former champion's earnings from a series of golfing "shorts" produced by Warner Brothers' film studio at Hollywood, Calif.

$5,000,000 Voted For Small Reservoirs In Great Plains States

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—The senate adopted last night an amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill adding $5,000,000 for the construction of small reclamation reservoirs in the great plains states.

The amendment was by Senator Hayden (D-Ariz).

Reclamation bureau officials said the dams would store supplemental water for use on land already under cultivation, particularly in the dust bowl areas.

Asserts State Water Rights Were Invaded

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Senator King (D-Utah), called attention of the senate today to what he called "an intrusion by the federal government" into water right controversies between states.

He referred to the administration's recent entrance into a suit between Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska over waters of the platte river. King accused the government of "attempting to nullify the rights of states to water resources" and demanded it "keep its hands off."

STEEL OPERATIONS

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—The steel industry finds itself in a "more cheerful" position this week than last, with June business running slightly ahead of May and operations at the nation's steel mills averaging a point higher at 26 per cent, "Iron Age" said today.

"Evidence pointing to any considerable run-up in steel mill operations this summer is scanty, yet prospects for the structural steel business are brightening," the publication said. "The auto industry, contrary to expectations, is now planning to operate most of the summer, and steel sellers report a more diversified demand for many steel products."

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Despite a slight firming of the dollar at noontime today it was still under its position of yesterday in terms of leading foreign currencies in the foreign market.

The pound sterling reached $4.98¼ and then went on the offered side at $4.97⅝, only ⅛ above yesterday's close. Volume was comparatively small with no sign of official control.

Money experts said wholly unconfirmed devaluation rumors persisted despite repeated official denials both in this country and abroad.

The franc, too, eased a bit, but at noon was also ⅛ higher than last night's close in terms of the dollar. Other leading currencies moved accordingly.

French Ship Is Sunk During Air Raid at Valencia

15,000 Refugees Arrive In Spanish Seaport From Castellon

VALENCIA, June 15—(AP)—The French freighter Gaulois sank in Valencia harbor today after being bombed by insurgent warplanes.

A sailing vessel in the harbor was set afire.

Valencia, its port and suburbs suffered five severe raids during the day. Three persons were known to have been killed and 20 injured. Fifteen houses were destroyed.

There were no casualties aboard the Gaulois, her crew and dock workers aboard having had time to reach safety.

Valencia was overwhelmed by an ever-swelling stream of hungry, war-impoverished refugees from Castellon de la Plana and Castellon province.

15,000 Already Arrive.

The bull ring, many theaters and every building that could be evacuated to make room for them was packed with the 15,000 already arrived.

Government observers declared loss of Castellon de la Plana would mean little in the final outcome of the war.

They expressed belief the war would continue for monthes, perhaps years, with the final outcome still undetermined.

Even loss of Valencia would not be vital, they said, so long as government Spain was determined to fight.

Hague Denies Dictator Claim

NEWARK, N. J., June 15—(AP)—Mayor Frank Hague, asked in Federal court today if his "word is effectively the law" in Jersey City, pointed to his quarter-century domination of the local government and said: "My judgment would be ascertained in all questions."

Hague, defending himself against CIO-American Civil Liberties Union charges that he suppressed free speech and assemblage in New Jersey's second largest city, was asked about the "I am the law" quotation which he denies he made as a claim to local dictatorship.

Explaining the origin of the "I am the law" quotation, Hague said it referred to a juvenile delinquency case in which two boys had the alternative of going to jail or to work despite the fact they were under working age.

Hague said that "under present conditions," Jersey City would deny a public speaking permit to the CIO if application were made by John L. Lewis, its national chairman.

Bookie Injunction Made Permanent

Judge Rine's Order Clears Way For Appeal; Race Makers Declared Nuisances

OMAHA, June 15—(AP)—District Judge John Rine signed Tuesday two permanent injunction decrees against Omaha horse race book makers. The permanent decrees replace a temporary injunction issued by Judge Rine at the request of Attorney General Richard Hunter, who termed the bookies "common nuisances" operating in violation of state law.

The first permanent decrees were against the 387 individuals whose attorneys joined the attorney general's office in a stipulation of facts Monday. The second was against 97 others who failed to file answers to Hunter's charges and thereby lost right of appeal.

The stipulation of facts eliminated the need for taking of testimony in District court here, leaving legal interpretation of the facts to be decided in an appeal by the bookies to the Nebraska Supreme court.

Contract More Beets

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—American Crystal Sugar Co., which has large holdings in California and Colorado, and factories in those states and in Montana, Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa, signed up acreage for beet sugar about 15 per cent larger than last season, D. N. Wilds, president, told stockholders today at their annual meeting. Moisture conditions are the best in quite a number of years, he said, extending over all beet growing territories of the company. Retiring directors were re-elected.

Vast Variety Of Weapons, Masks, Photos Displayed

Implements of crime and crime detection are being displayed at Temple theater here in connection with the peace officers institute at the University of Nebraska.

One display shows a collection of guns, bullets, masks and other police equipment used by identification experts. The other shows interesting photographs by government experts of scenes of major crimes, accidents, enlarged finger prints, pictures of raids and closeups of tools used by gangsters.

Is Moulage Expert.

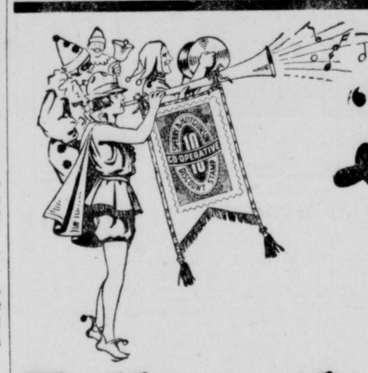

All displays as well as the meetings are open to the public, according to Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, chairman in charge. The display of identification equipment was brought here by R. W. Nebergall of Des Moines, formerly of the Iowa department of justice. Nebergall has at least 500 different guns in his collection and close to 400 different bullets here. Of particular interest is his several moulage casts of human heads, feat, and hands. The Iowan has become an expert with this phase of the identification work, having learned the art from Dr. Ferdinand Watzek of the Vienna police.

Also featured in the equipment display are gas gun machines, a sound detector which is capable of picking up faint whispers in any corner of a large room or even conversations which might be going on in two different rooms. Nebergall also is displaying a specially constructed camera used by law enforcing officers, an instrument that will perform not only all the necessities demanded of the ordinary camera, but a good many others, such as the taking of finger prints.
